

South Carolina: Unsettled, probably local showers and thunderstorms Monday and Tuesday.

Allied Disarmament Note To Government at Berlin Causing Much Uneasiness

Despite Feeling Caused in Germany, Most of Demands Likely Will Be Accepted Eventually.

BY ERIC KEYSER.

Berlin, May 31.—Although there is considerable feeling over the latest disarmament note from the allies, there is good reason for believing that most of the allied demands will eventually be accepted.

For the present, however, members of the government are indicating unofficially that they are alarmed by the alleged contents of the note because of its demands regarding Germany's police, which it is declared cannot be fulfilled, and concerning her factories, which are alleged to be economically unbearable.

The government parties and the press have thus far refrained from taking a stand one way or the other, although the socialists declare the note is willing to make sacrifices to secure the evacuation of the Rhine-land. There is a general feeling that the Cologne evacuation should have occurred in January and that the latest note was unjustified.

Effect on Nation. The effect of the note on Germany's internal situation is likely to be similar to that of the proposed security pact upon Europe as a whole. It will lead to pacification among the German factions in case subsequent negotiations concerning it are successful, and probably to further stabilization of the country. If a settlement on the question of evacuation is not reached soon, however, the present situation is likely to grow worse.

The German action on the note will undoubtedly have an effect upon internal political alignments, and the Deutsche Zeitung even goes so far as to mention the possibility of a presidential crisis, claiming that it would be impossible for Hindenburg to sign a law which would cripple the Reichswehr. The paper declares that the semi-militaristic organizations would not yield to any order that they disavow and that their resistance would lead to the possibility of uprisings.

Well-informed persons, however, do not believe such a crisis will develop. Relations Are Strained.

Since the election of Von Hindenburg, Franco-German relations have tended to grow more strained, a fact which imparts the element of danger to the disarmament question. Newspapers have been suppressed and officials discharged in the occupied zone and these and other developments there have had a bad reaction on the economic life of the area, which is approaching stagnation. Both imports and exports are decreasing and the trade balance is most unfavorable. In four months, industrial shares have dropped by from 20 to 40 per cent in value and this condition has affected some of the greatest of the dye, mining and electric concerns.

Economic difficulties are more likely to cause trouble than political developments. Factories are considering further wage reductions, while the workers are discussing possible strikes to secure higher living standards.

Accident Insurance Pays—Get Yours

Insurance pays—only the foolish nowadays will take issue with that statement.

You probably are "old" on insurance to the extent that your life is amply covered. But have you paused to reflect that in this day of speeding and reckless driving, of a daily-mounting accident waves and of police traffic cruises—accident insurance pays too?

Read the headlines in the daily papers, and you'll be convinced by the long list of dead and injured. Get your accident insurance. And remember that The Constitution's new $7,500 Travel Accident policy is the cheapest and best to be obtained anywhere.

It costs you only $1 per year in addition to the regular subscription rates of your Daily and Sunday Constitution, and you get the following sweeping protective guarantees:

$7,500 travel accident death payment, the policy increasing 10 per cent per year to $10,000 in five years; $2,000 automobile death, the policy increasing 10 per cent per year to $3,000 in five years; $1,000 pedestrian death, the policy increasing 10 per cent per year to $1,500 in five years; large cash sums for permanent injuries, and $10 weekly indemnity for disability resulting from certain specified accidents.

If you are wise you will not delay taking advantage of this wonderful protective opportunity. You owe it to yourself and your loved ones to do so at once.

In this issue you'll find a full-page advertisement describing the offer in full. Turn to it now; then phone, write or visit The Constitution's insurance department, and get your protection.

Columbia Annexes Suburb.

Columbia, S. C., May 31.—Columbia increased its territory considerably recently when two suburban Newnan Field and North Columbia were annexed. Both communities had, by a vote of the people, favored annexation by the capital. Rose Hill, another suburb, is expected to hold an election in the near future on the question of coming into the city, it was announced.

TWO PERSONS HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

Two persons were injured seriously Sunday in automobile crashes, according to Grady hospital reports.

The victims are Mrs. J. L. Maudlin, 27, 50 Powell street, and Earl Denton, 11, of 47 Waddell street. According to attending physicians, both were badly cut and bruised about the head and body. They declined to state where the accidents occurred, or to give any particulars. No report of the two accidents are on file at police headquarters.

Strange Millinery Display Greets Prince of Wales

Maseru, South Africa, May 31.—One of the strangest displays of millinery ever gathered together greeted H. R. H. the Prince of Wales, on his visit here when he reviewed 120,000 Basutos, gathered together from all parts of Basutoland.

It was the biggest celebration the natives had ever witnessed and they came prepared to make a good impression on their future king. Some of the warriors wore ancient, rain-spoiled and battered caps, others sported their feather and nakedness with brown or black durbies. Great military bushes denoted a higher stage of social rank, while opera hats whose springs had long since lost their strength, crowned the heads of the elite. One Basuto was conspicuous in a scholastic mortarboard.

The conclude of natives was held within a few miles of the Mountain of Night, famous in native lore as an impregnable barrier against invaders.

The chiefs of the tribes paid homage to the prince, who in turn delighted them by presenting each with a walking stick.

The festivities were concluded with a great banquet, at which the natives ate prodigious quantities of beef, including many oxen which Wales supplied.

LETTER ADDRESSED TO U. S. PRISONER

Police of Atlanta have been asked to distribute a letter addressed to a prisoner in the federal prison here.

The letter was received in a telegram Sunday from George G. Henry, chief inspector of the police department of Baltimore, Md.

The letter, which was addressed to a man giving his name as Frank William Brown, age 23, five feet five inches, 145 pounds, fair complexion, brown eyes, chestnut hair. In his possession a letter addressed to John Hall, P. O. box 1733, Atlanta, Ga. Letter dated May 29, 1925, and not yet mailed. Please learn from John Hall the proper identity of Brown. Brown attempted to shoot a policeman who in turn shot him and he is in a serious condition. He and the confederate who is also arrested, known as Frank Brown, alias John Nazario, alias Edward Denny will be charged with burglary.

The Hall is signed LeRoy Childs and another portion signed Frank Miller.

LAKEWOOD PARK IS SCENE TODAY OF NEGRO PICNIC

The fifth annual picnic and general outing for the colored people of Atlanta will be held at Lakewood park today.

Several features have been planned for the annual outing, including addresses by prominent negroes.

In the afternoon there will be automobile races, bicycle races, and athletic events for the young people.

GERMANS STAGING ENDURANCE MATCH AMONG AVIATORS

Berlin, May 31.—The biggest endurance flying contest ever staged in Germany started at 4 o'clock this morning, when a nine-day airplane match began at Berlin. In the course of the flight, all Germany except eastern Prussia and the occupied western area will be flown over.

With 24 hours intermission between each group of airplanes will be sent away on five consecutive days on a different loop from Berlin over a distance of 650 miles daily. Of the 15 contestants entered, it is not expected that more than three will complete the full program of five flights, in accordance with the conditions, which are extremely rigid.

Prizes aggregating 400,000 marks have been offered by newspapers and business men. The planes are divided into three classes, up to 40, 80 and 120 horsepower respectively. The chief purpose of the contest is to awaken German interest in aeronautics, and also to test the endurance and reliability of German motors in competition with foreign motors.

By 1 o'clock this afternoon 48 airplanes had flown over the airfield near Schwerin, about 150 miles from Berlin. There had been 19 forced landings and one airplane completely turned turtle.

A violent tempest was raging at an elevation of about 3,000 feet, many abandoned the contest. Four airplanes have not yet been heard from.

Most of the flights were over Hamburg, and one landing was made in Bremen. From Hamburg comes the report that one plane crashed.

ROFF SIMS WAREHOUSE VICTIM OF FLAMES

Continued From First Page.

attained oils, greases, floor polishes and cleaning compounds.

Office fixtures, including a large safe and practically all of the company books were removed from the Wizzard Products Company warehouse.

The furniture in the office, however, was slightly damaged by fire.

The building occupied by the Lynch-Johnson Plumbing was damaged by smoke and water but the work of the Atlanta fire department prevented its destruction. Two large trucks were removed from the rear of the building by friends of Mr. Sims. The large safe and office fixtures of this company also were saved.

The flames attracted one of the largest crowds assembled at any fire in the city during the past year.

T. S. Clarke is general manager of the Wizzard Products company, while Roff Sims manages of Roff Sims & Company, whose buildings and contents were destroyed by the flames.

MAKES DEAF HEAR BY NEW METHOD

Discovery of Chemist Can Be Used By Every Deaf Person at Home.

INDEPENDENCE, MO.—(Special.)—Many who have used a new method for making the deaf hear have reported results that seem almost marvelous. People who had not heard for years have been able to hear a watch tick three feet away. Many say head noises and roaring disappeared after the first treatment.

The method, known as Aud-e-ne Balm, has been developed by A. E. Kienth, well-known Wisconsin chemist, and is simple and easy to use. It is harmless and anyone can use it at home. Often just a few minutes a great improvement is seen and in many cases deaf people who have not heard for years can hear ordinary talk.

No deaf person should lose hope. No matter what you have used to relieve your deafness, do not be discouraged. Even though you have tried ear phones, aural electrical devices, and oils don't think you are doomed to deafness for the balance of your life. Aud-e-ne has often been successful where everything else has failed.

Mr. Kienth wants every deaf person to try his new method and he will send it on free trial to any reader who will write his company. He wants one person to each locality who will recommend it to their friends. If you want to restore your hearing and get rid of the roaring head noises and tinnitus, take advantage of this free offer. Just send your name to the Aud-e-ne Co., Dept. 1191, Independence, Mo.—(adv.)

PAUL NORCROSS

Continued From First Page.

Paul Norcross in planning and making possible the Chicago drainage district had saved that city from an epidemic of typhoid fever.

Three o'clock was the hour set for the community memorial services to Mr. Norcross. Long before that time the church was comfortably filled. Flowers were banded about the altar in loving remembrance of one of the leading members of the First Presbyterian church.

That was the main tribute of all. Paul Norcross was a gentleman, a Christian man, a passionate lover of home, a kindly friend, and an earnest of unassuming ability—so said one and all.

Mayson's Tribute. "If ever there is a hall of fame for Atlanta's leaders, said City Attorney Mayson, "there are two men who, I know, will be honored there. One of these is Jonathan Norcross, who, as mayor of this city in its pioneering days, risked his life to preserve order. The other is his grandson, Paul Norcross, whose public works in Atlanta will stand out and speak for him."

"If Paul Norcross had known he was to die when he went to Memphis," said Alfred Newell, "he would have asked that his funeral rites be plain. He would not have desired tributes. But this is a eulogy and I have a vision of his strong personality. Impulsively alert, straight, no side-stepping, supremely conscientious, free-handed, generous, quick to take offense, but quicker to forgive and forget, holding fast to his own opinions, but tolerant of others, eager to serve his community, cherishing his own with an almost idolatrous indulgence, his whole home life illumined by loving life, happy in the love and esteem of his fellowmen, standing four-square with an unshakable faith in God—that was Paul Norcross."

"It is beyond us to understand why in the very zenith of his career his life was so suddenly ended."

Services Are Offered. Promptly on the hour, churches designated the beginning of the memorial service, which was opened by Dr. Lons. A ringing tribute to Paul Norcross as a member of the church.

SAFORD H. COHEN DIES IN DECATUR

Sanford H. Cohen, prominent Augustan, died Sunday morning at the home of W. D. Ferris, 153 Kings highway, in Decatur, after an extended illness.

The body was taken to Atlanta, accompanied by his nephew, John S. Cohen, editor of the Atlanta Journal. Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Cohen, former city editor of the Augusta Chronicle, former theatrical man, and widely-known promoter, had been in ill health since January. Early this month he was sent to North Carolina in hopes of regaining his health. Last week a stroke occurred and he was carried to the home of his stepson, W. D. Ferris, in Decatur, where he died.

Mr. Cohen, during his early years, was promoter of expositions and fairs. He was associated with the Cotton States Exposition in Atlanta, as well as general manager of the great Appalachian exposition held in Knoxville, Tenn., the Augusta exposition, and several others.

For many years he managed the grand opera house here and at one time was manager for the following well-known stars, James O'Neill, Fred Ward, Roland Reed and Miles Blum.

He was also manager of the government erected a veterans' hospital here following the war.

At the time of his death he was manager of the Mount Mitchell State Automobile road to the top of Mount Mitchell, N. C.

He is survived by two step-daughters, Mrs. A. A. Richardson, of Columbia, S. C., and Mrs. Jordan Sanford, of Milledgeville; a step-son, W. D. Ferris; a brother, John J. Cohen, of Augusta, and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. S. Cohen, 153 Kings highway, in Decatur.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. S. Cohen, 153 Kings highway, in Decatur.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. S. Cohen, 153 Kings highway, in Decatur.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. S. Cohen, 153 Kings highway, in Decatur.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. S. Cohen, 153 Kings highway, in Decatur.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. S. Cohen, 153 Kings highway, in Decatur.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. S. Cohen, 153 Kings highway, in Decatur.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. S. Cohen, 153 Kings highway, in Decatur.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. S. Cohen, 153 Kings highway, in Decatur.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. S. Cohen, 153 Kings highway, in Decatur.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. S. Cohen, 153 Kings highway, in Decatur.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. S. Cohen, 153 Kings highway, in Decatur.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. S. Cohen, 153 Kings highway, in Decatur.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. S. Cohen, 153 Kings highway, in Decatur.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. S. Cohen, 153 Kings highway, in Decatur.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. S. Cohen, 153 Kings highway, in Decatur.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. S. Cohen, 153 Kings highway, in Decatur.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. S. Cohen, 153 Kings highway, in Decatur.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. S. Cohen, 153 Kings highway, in Decatur.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. S. Cohen, 153 Kings highway, in Decatur.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. S. Cohen, 153 Kings highway, in Decatur.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. S. Cohen, 153 Kings highway, in Decatur.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. S. Cohen, 153 Kings highway, in Decatur.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. S. Cohen, 153 Kings highway, in Decatur.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. S. Cohen, 153 Kings highway, in Decatur.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. S. Cohen, 153 Kings highway, in Decatur.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. S. Cohen, 153 Kings highway, in Decatur.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. S. Cohen, 153 Kings highway, in Decatur.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. S. Cohen, 153 Kings highway, in Decatur.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. S. Cohen, 153 Kings highway, in Decatur.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. S. Cohen, 153 Kings highway, in Decatur.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. S. Cohen, 153 Kings highway, in Decatur.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. S. Cohen, 153 Kings highway, in Decatur.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. S. Cohen, 153 Kings highway, in Decatur.

a devout Christian, a home-lover, a charitable and kind citizen, and a strong leader was said by the pastor. "Let us live," he said, "so that when the summons comes to any one of us, may it come as it did to him, who lived well and died a brave man. It must be plain to his friends that he died struggling and fighting to the last to help some helpless one."

Paul Norcross gave his life trying to save victims of the wreck.

Dr. Brittain speaks.

Dr. Brittain traced the education of the young man and his advances through three separate schools of engineering before he finally established the engineering business in Atlanta which brought him fame. Mr. Norcross graduated from Georgia Tech as a textile engineer. Dr. Brittain said, but worked in this capacity only six months in Mississippi, before he went to New York, where he obtained a position on a line of European steamships as an officer. He worked in the great shipyards of the big liners in order to more thoroughly understand mechanical engineering which he then was studying.

Later Mr. Norcross went to Roanoke, Va., to complete that training and then launched into training for the career he was to follow closely—that of a civil engineer.

Sympathy for Poor.

Eloquent tribute was paid the deceased by Mr. Atkinson in his address on behalf of the Rotary club. Stress was laid here on Mr. Norcross' sympathy for the poverty-stricken. He related an incident before Christmas last year when Mr. Norcross served as an auctioneer in selling intended for summer large enough to enable the Rotary club to provide Christmas for many poor children, who otherwise would have believed there was no Santa Claus.

"And his service didn't end here," said Mr. Atkinson. "He carried it into their homes, leaving the magic of his smile and the charm of his personality to cheer the hearts of the poor."

The service came to an end with a brief summary of Mr. Norcross' achievements by S. H. Young, American Society of Mechanical Engineers and the playing of a funeral march.

CHURCH TO ERECT $30,000 BUILDING

The congregation of the East Presbyterian church, Sunday, last, accepted a recommendation made by officers of the church to erect a $30,000 building in place of the former pastor, the late Dr. J. H. Helderby, as soon as funds have been raised. The name of the church is unchanged but the building, completed, will contain a memorial tablet to Dr. Helderby.

Subscriptions were called for $3,780 pledged. With $1,200 already in view this gives a total of $5,040. Only about one-third of members have subscribed so far.

Plans call for a church building with an auditorium seating 375, a Sunday school equipment for about 400 scholars. Rev. J. R. Williams, pastor of the church, designed the building, drew plans, and will superintend the erection.

The East Point Presbyterian church has had remarkable growth in the last 12 months. Starting a year ago with 66 members, it now has 132, with a Sunday school of 170. Gifts of the people have more than trebled what they were 12 months ago.

The NEW MARMON "It's a Great Automobile"

At the Show IN IVY STREET GARAGE All This Week

Six Different Models on Display

MARMON ATLANTA CO., INC. 444 Peachtree St.

A new fast train

St. Louis-Colorado Limited to Denver with thru Pullman Service to Seattle-Los Angeles

St. Louis (Wabash) - - - 2:00 p.m.
Lv. Kansas City (Union Pacific) 10:00 a.m.
Ar. Denver - - - - - 3:30 p.m.
Lv. Denver - - - - - 8:00 p.m.
Ar. Salt Lake City - - - 2:05 p.m.
Ar. Los Angeles - - - - 2:00 p.m.
Ar. Portland - - - - - 6:15 p.m.
Ar. Seattle - - - - - 6:30 a.m.

In daily service for the summer season. Drawing room, compartment and open-section sleeping cars, chair cars and dining car for all meals/Modern, luxurious steel equipment. Through sleepers St. Louis to Los Angeles and Kansas City to Seattle.

Through drawing-room sleeping car leaves Atlanta (N. C. & St. L.) 9:00 a. m. daily for Denver, beginning May 31st (through to Yellowstone, beginning June 15th) via St. Louis and the Union Pacific's PACIFIC COAST LIMITED.

Also year-round service to Colorado and Pacific Coast on DENVER EXPRESS leaving St. Louis 10:30 p. m.

For reservations, vacation booklets and information ask W. C. Elgin, General Agent Union Pacific System 1222 Healey Bldg. Phone Walnut 5163, Atlanta, Ga.

Thru Sleeper from Atlanta to Denver

Coupon Good for New ENLARGED DICTIONARY

TO READERS OF The Constitution

Old dictionaries should be discarded, as recent activities have brought additional words into our language, and the publishers had to discard their old printing plates. Here is the newly compiled dictionary—larger and more complete than any similar one—enlarged vocabulary—all the new words and new special features—now ready for every reader.

ONLY ONE COUPON REQUIRED NOW

ONE of these coupons, presented or mailed to this newspaper with a nominal sum to cover cost of handling, packing, clerk hire, distribution, etc., amounting to only 98 Cents

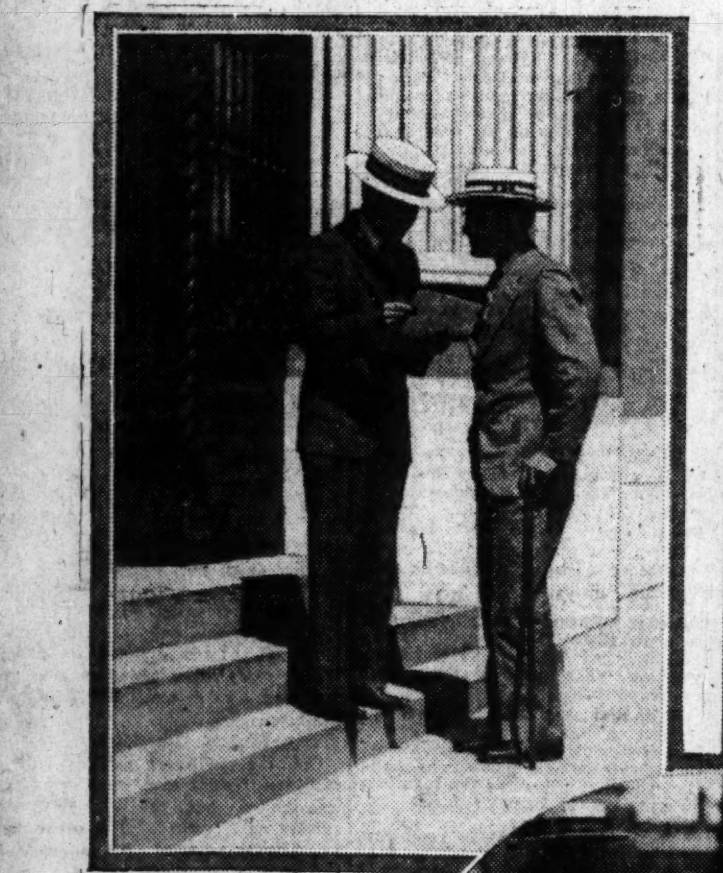

Entitles every reader to this New Enlarged University Dictionary

Without Further Expense or Obligation—Money Back if Not Satisfied.

Offer Withdrawn Soon—Only One Coupon Now

This is the ideal book for solving Cross Word Puzzles

Hotel Astor
NEW YORK
One of America's great hotels—and, surrounding it, the city's famous shops, theatres and business—
Attractive Rates
F. A. Muschenheim
TIMES SQUARE
BROADWAY 44 ST. - 45 ST.

SNAP-SHOTS

Some of the well-tailored Palm Beach Suits—just as they look on regular men—on the bank steps, at the seashore and in the park. These men are cool and well-dressed in Palm Beach. Remember, these are snapshots and the camera tells the truth.

Look for the registered Palm Beach label in your summer suits, to make sure of getting a really smart, cool summer suit.

Wear Palm Beach

clothes all around the clock—morning, afternoon, evening—for business, sports wear, automobile driving. You can be well-dressed for any occasion and still be cool. And for golfing, Palm Beach Knickers are ideal.

Your clothes can show you cool. Palm Beach Suits in light and dark colors and patterns just as in woollens and worsteds.

This Advertisement Registers A Violent Kick

TAKE a look at the suits in the snapshots. Smartly cut, finely tailored, well fitting—aren't they? Besides that, they are the coolest, lightest-feeling suits that ever brought relief to a sizzling body.

Now for the glad tidings—Clothing stores offer Palm Beach Suits at prices which usually range about $12.50, $15.00, $16.50 and $18.50. Some styles and makes sell for more. And here comes that kick—

The weavers of Palm Beach Cloth protest against having people think that all suits made of summer fabrics look as though they had been slung together by a tent-maker. They want you to know that you can get good-looking suits of genuine Palm Beach if you pay for good tailoring.

And you can get Genuine Palm Beach Suits in all the handsome new colors and patterns—in both light and dark shades—that you see in the finest imported woollens and worsteds; also the famous tan and other light colors individual to Palm Beach.

You just can't get better looks, comfort or wear than in well-made suits of Palm Beach—and that's a fact!

THE PALM BEACH MILLS
GOODALL WORSTED CO., Sanford, Me.
Selling Agent: A. ROHAUT
229 Fourth Avenue, New York City

For men, young men and boys—COOL SUITS OF

PALM BEACH CLOTH

FLEA'S
Bee Brand
INSECT POWDER
It kills them!

$8,400,000 Is Declared Needed for City Schools During Next Seven Years

Money Necessary for Housing Needs Based on Normal Increase in Population, It Is Said.

Substantiating figures given out several weeks ago, a report of a subcommittee of the special school commission, submitted Saturday by former Alderman J. R. Bachman, chairman, declared that with a normal increase in school population, $8,400,000 will be necessary to meet the housing needs throughout the system during the next seven years.

Appearing during the past two weeks before the special bond committee of city council named to consider advisability of a bond issue, school officials have stated that approximately $8,400,000 is needed for new buildings and replacements.

The figures contained in the commission's report do not include costs of necessary equipment, and no estimate is given of that expense.

The following facts, reached by comparing Atlanta's school system with other cities of similar size, also are set forth in the report:

Classes in Atlanta are not too small, as they range from 19.6 pupils per teacher in senior high schools to 69.7 students per teacher in negro elementary schools.

Salaries paid white teachers in the Atlanta system are lower by 5.6 per cent than in 13 other cities of Atlanta's size.

Cost for teachers a pupil in white schools here is 12.6 per cent below the average.

Atlanta's white schools have 8.4 per cent pupils per teacher more than other cities, and in both white and colored, 25 per cent more.

The per capita tax here is smaller than any city of Atlanta's size in the country.

John T. Hancock, president of the board of education, explained Sunday that the report is only tentative, and undoubtedly would be altered when brought up for consideration by the entire commission.

The figures are practically identical with those shown in reports of various school and civic organizations made during the past several months, and few new facts were brought out.

Figures taken from the present rate of increase, the report stated, show that by 1933 seating accommodations must be provided for an additional 30,000 students, which would include new pupils expected and those now housed in temporary buildings.

Based on costs of school buildings erected in the past and cost of materials at the present time, $5,000,000 would be needed to provide housing facilities for the additional 30,000 elementary school students anticipated during the next seven years; $1,800,000 for the expected 6,000 new junior high school students, and $1,600,000 for the 4,000 new students expected in senior high schools.

The report, which is quite lengthy, shows details of the number of students per teacher in all schools here; the number of school rooms and seating capacity of the average schools; the number of teachers, and other facts arrived at as a result of the survey.

Atlanta's white schools have 8.4 per cent pupils per teacher more than other cities, and in both white and colored, 25 per cent more.

The per capita tax here is smaller than any city of Atlanta's size in the country.

John T. Hancock, president of the board of education, explained Sunday that the report is only tentative, and undoubtedly would be altered when brought up for consideration by the entire commission.

The figures are practically identical with those shown in reports of various school and civic organizations made during the past several months, and few new facts were brought out.

Figures taken from the present rate of increase, the report stated, show that by 1933 seating accommodations must be provided for an additional 30,000 students, which would include new pupils expected and those now housed in temporary buildings.

Based on costs of school buildings erected in the past and cost of materials at the present time, $5,000,000 would be needed to provide housing facilities for the additional 30,000 elementary school students anticipated during the next seven years; $1,800,000 for the expected 6,000 new junior high school students, and $1,600,000 for the 4,000 new students expected in senior high schools.

The report, which is quite lengthy, shows details of the number of students per teacher in all schools here; the number of school rooms and seating capacity of the average schools; the number of teachers, and other facts arrived at as a result of the survey.

Atlanta's white schools have 8.4 per cent pupils per teacher more than other cities, and in both white and colored, 25 per cent more.

The per capita tax here is smaller than any city of Atlanta's size in the country.

John T. Hancock, president of the board of education, explained Sunday that the report is only tentative, and undoubtedly would be altered when brought up for consideration by the entire commission.

The figures are practically identical with those shown in reports of various school and civic organizations made during the past several months, and few new facts were brought out.

Figures taken from the present rate of increase, the report stated, show that by 1933 seating accommodations must be provided for an additional 30,000 students, which would include new pupils expected and those now housed in temporary buildings.

Based on costs of school buildings erected in the past and cost of materials at the present time, $5,000,000 would be needed to provide housing facilities for the additional 30,000 elementary school students anticipated during the next seven years; $1,800,000 for the expected 6,000 new junior high school students, and $1,600,000 for the 4,000 new students expected in senior high schools.

The report, which is quite lengthy, shows details of the number of students per teacher in all schools here; the number of school rooms and seating capacity of the average schools; the number of teachers, and other facts arrived at as a result of the survey.

Atlanta's white schools have 8.4 per cent pupils per teacher more than other cities, and in both white and colored, 25 per cent more.

The per capita tax here is smaller than any city of Atlanta's size in the country.

John T. Hancock, president of the board of education, explained Sunday that the report is only tentative, and undoubtedly would be altered when brought up for consideration by the entire commission.

The figures are practically identical with those shown in reports of various school and civic organizations made during the past several months, and few new facts were brought out.

Figures taken from the present rate of increase, the report stated, show that by 1933 seating accommodations must be provided for an additional 30,000 students, which would include new pupils expected and those now housed in temporary buildings.

Based on costs of school buildings erected in the past and cost of materials at the present time, $5,000,000 would be needed to provide housing facilities for the additional 30,000 elementary school students anticipated during the next seven years; $1,800,000 for the expected 6,000 new junior high school students, and $1,600,000 for the 4,000 new students expected in senior high schools.

The report, which is quite lengthy, shows details of the number of students per teacher in all schools here; the number of school rooms and seating capacity of the average schools; the number of teachers, and other facts arrived at as a result of the survey.

Atlanta's white schools have 8.4 per cent pupils per teacher more than other cities, and in both white and colored, 25 per cent more.

The per capita tax here is smaller than any city of Atlanta's size in the country.

John T. Hancock, president of the board of education, explained Sunday that the report is only tentative, and undoubtedly would be altered when brought up for consideration by the entire commission.

The figures are practically identical with those shown in reports of various school and civic organizations made during the past several months, and few new facts were brought out.

Figures taken from the present rate of increase, the report stated, show that by 1933 seating accommodations must be provided for an additional 30,000 students, which would include new pupils expected and those now housed in temporary buildings.

Based on costs of school buildings erected in the past and cost of materials at the present time, $5,000,000 would be needed to provide housing facilities for the additional 30,000 elementary school students anticipated during the next seven years; $1,800,000 for the expected 6,000 new junior high school students, and $1,600,000 for the 4,000 new students expected in senior high schools.

The report, which is quite lengthy, shows details of the number of students per teacher in all schools here; the number of school rooms and seating capacity of the average schools; the number of teachers, and other facts arrived at as a result of the survey.

Atlanta's white schools have 8.4 per cent pupils per teacher more than other cities, and in both white and colored, 25 per cent more.

The per capita tax here is smaller than any city of Atlanta's size in the country.

John T. Hancock, president of the board of education, explained Sunday that the report is only tentative, and undoubtedly would be altered when brought up for consideration by the entire commission.

The figures are practically identical with those shown in reports of various school and civic organizations made during the past several months, and few new facts were brought out.

18,000 Atlanta Swimmers Visit Pools in 2 Days

A record breaking crowd of more than 18,000 people took advantage of the warm weather which prevailed over the week-end to swell attendance at the two opening days of Atlanta's municipal bathing pools, Saturday and Sunday.

Official figures showed that 1,450 persons paid admission to the Piedmont park pool, while there were 1,339 at Grant park during the two days. Approximately 1,000 paid to swim at Oakland City park, with about 900 at Madrox park and 300 at Mosley park. The negro pool at Washington park also was crowded throughout the two days.

L. L. Wallis, general manager of parks, who officially opened the season by splashing from the Modern park springboard Saturday afternoon, estimated that three children under 14 years of age visited the pools to every one over that age. Those under 14 are not required to pay admissions, and no check could be obtained of their number.

With new equipment in several of the pools, and all of them in the best of condition a record number of bathers is expected during the season. Last season's rules will prevail, with silk, white, and one-piece suits without skirts barred.

Women to hold meeting Tuesday

Continued From First Page.

Price-Smith, Mrs. M. L. Throver, Mrs. Hamilton Douglas, Mrs. Kate Conner, Mrs. Preston Arkwright, Miss May Haverly, Mrs. Price-Gilbert, Mrs. Hollins Randolph, Mrs. Sheppard Ryan, Mrs. J. B. Phillips, Mrs. Paul Seydel, Mrs. Walter Sims, Mrs. John W. Grant, Mrs. Robert Maddox, Mrs. A. J. Orme, Mrs. Eugene Black, Mrs. Edward Inman, Mrs. A. J. Hazard, Mrs. Francis Rock, Mrs. Alfred C. Newell, Mrs. Albert Thornton, Mrs. Charles Goodman, Mrs. Charles Haden, Mrs. Morris Hadden, Mrs. Charles Jerome, Mrs. B. F. Parker, Mrs. W. A. Wright, Mrs. E. B. Williams, Mrs. J. M. Nash, Mrs. Hubert Ralston, Mrs. James Bowden, Mrs. Albert V. Guide, Mrs. Robert Brandon, Mrs. N. M. Burns, Mrs. S. E. Ward, Mrs. J. H. Zachary, Mrs. James Kling, Dr. Elizabeth Roach, Mrs. J. E. Springs, Mrs. Charles Jerome, Mrs. W. E. Carnes, Mrs. Charles Weems, Mrs. J. W. Hurt, Mrs. J. Bonar White, Miss Bess Langhorne.

The mass meeting is being held under direction of the civic division with Mrs. Wilmer L. Moore, vice chairman.

Intensive Canvassing.

Every hour from now on is to be devoted, according to Mrs. Albert V. Guide, city chairman, to the most intensive canvassing by every one of the one thousand active workers. The objective time for all workers is to be 10 o'clock, P. M. Saturday, Wednesday. The city executive committee is especially urging every active worker in the campaign to be present with reports.

Much active work was done Sunday by the several hundred team workers under direction of Marlon Jackson, chairman of the religious division. His colleagues in the distribution of coin certificates are Harold Hirsch, Hughes Spalding and M. M. Davies.

So far in the campaign, St. Philip's cathedral has been leading all the field with one of the Jewish groups second.

Religious Groups Busy.

The following religious groups were at work Sunday and are to report at the luncheon Tuesday:

Methodist—P. S. Johnston, Ponce de Leon; Mrs. D. H. Malone, Eggleston Memorial; Miss Mary Donahoe, East Point; Dr. W. J. Auten, Hemphill avenue.

Christian—J. M. Nelms, Lakewood; Miss Dorothy Cook, College Park; R. E. Mathews, Capitol View; Henry Dillon, East Atlanta; Steadman Ryan, Howell station; W. G. Carter, East Point; Miss Sarah Florence.

Episcopal—Mrs. J. M. Nelms, Lakewood; Miss Dorothy Cook, College Park; R. E. Mathews, Capitol View; Henry Dillon, East Atlanta; Steadman Ryan, Howell station; W. G. Carter, East Point; Miss Sarah Florence.

Presbyterian—C. D. Langlin, Oakhurst; Mrs. J. A. Campbell, Decatur; Stewart Lorraine, Decatur; John H. Gordon, Decatur; W. C. McNair, Pryor street; William S. Ansley, Druid Hills; Arthur Stone, North Avenue; W. M. Everett, Jr., Westminister; Leo Stillman, College Park; Judge V. S. Morgan, Ingleside; Edwin Jones, Kirkwood; S. W. Carson, First.

Young People's Service League—Fred L. Williams, St. Philip's; Miss Catherine Abbott, St. Luke's; Murray Weems, Incarnation; Norman W. Beane, Church of Our Saviour; Grace Thomas, Epiphany; Lee Skidner, Holy Trinity; Willis Moore, St. Johns; Dorothy Hill, St. Timothy; Virginia Goodman, St. James.

Endeavor Societies—Miss Jewell Hicks, Barnett; Martin Elliott, Capitol View; E. H. Gormley, Central Presbyterian; C. T. Greer, Cliff-ton; T. A. Stephenson, College Park church; Miss Agnes Allen, Decatur church; Wallace Alston, Decatur; Phillip Howard, Druid Hills; P. L. Mitchell, East Atlanta; Miss Ruth Taylor, East Point; Mrs. Henry Lee, East Point; Virgil G. Chew, First church; Emmett Munger, First.

Miss Annie Kate Green, Georgia avenue; Miss Kathryn Coler, Gordon street; Miss Dorothy Adams, Howell station; Miss Emily Large, Inman Park; Miss Elizabeth Burt, Kirkwood; Miss Margaret Brown, Lakewood; H. H. Norman, Jr., Moore Memorial; Courtney Bluet, R. North Avenue; E. W. Bryan, Oakhurst; Miss Lillian Coker, Orme-wood; Ed Brantley, Peachtree Road; Paul F. Eisenhart, Piedmont Park.

Continued From First Page.

Atlanta and Savannah defended one end of this bridge, when firing started on the Mexican side.

He entered the Confederate army at the age of 15, enlisting as a private in company K, First South Carolina cavalry, serving under his father, Colonel John D. Twiggs, which outfit was attached to Robinson's brigade, Butler's division, Hampton's corps, army northern division. He was a man active in civic affairs, being at one time a councilman and member of the board of education of Augusta.

Wires were sent today to all brigade commanders in the Georgia division, and it is expected that hundreds of veterans from all sections of the state will attend the funeral Tuesday.

Continued From First Page.

Atlanta and Savannah defended one end of this bridge, when firing started on the Mexican side.

He entered the Confederate army at the age of 15, enlisting as a private in company K, First South Carolina cavalry, serving under his father, Colonel John D. Twiggs, which outfit was attached to Robinson's brigade, Butler's division, Hampton's corps, army northern division. He was a man active in civic affairs, being at one time a councilman and member of the board of education of Augusta.

Wires were sent today to all brigade commanders in the Georgia division, and it is expected that hundreds of veterans from all sections of the state will attend the funeral Tuesday.

Continued From First Page.

Atlanta and Savannah defended one end of this bridge, when firing started on the Mexican side.

He entered the Confederate army at the age of 15, enlisting as a private in company K, First South Carolina cavalry, serving under his father, Colonel John D. Twiggs, which outfit was attached to Robinson's brigade, Butler's division, Hampton's corps, army northern division. He was a man active in civic affairs, being at one time a councilman and member of the board of education of Augusta.

Wires were sent today to all brigade commanders in the Georgia division, and it is expected that hundreds of veterans from all sections of the state will attend the funeral Tuesday.

Continued From First Page.

Atlanta and Savannah defended one end of this bridge, when firing started on the Mexican side.

He entered the Confederate army at the age of 15, enlisting as a private in company K, First South Carolina cavalry, serving under his father, Colonel John D. Twiggs, which outfit was attached to Robinson's brigade, Butler's division, Hampton's corps, army northern division. He was a man active in civic affairs, being at one time a councilman and member of the board of education of Augusta.

Wires were sent today to all brigade commanders in the Georgia division, and it is expected that hundreds of veterans from all sections of the state will attend the funeral Tuesday.

Continued From First Page.

Atlanta and Savannah defended one end of this bridge, when firing started on the Mexican side.

He entered the Confederate army at the age of 15, enlisting as a private in company K, First South Carolina cavalry, serving under his father, Colonel John D. Twiggs, which outfit was attached to Robinson's brigade, Butler's division, Hampton's corps, army northern division. He was a man active in civic affairs, being at one time a councilman and member of the board of education of Augusta.

Wires were sent today to all brigade commanders in the Georgia division, and it is expected that hundreds of veterans from all sections of the state will attend the funeral Tuesday.

Continued From First Page.

Atlanta and Savannah defended one end of this bridge, when firing started on the Mexican side.

He entered the Confederate army at the age of 15, enlisting as a private in company K, First South Carolina cavalry, serving under his father, Colonel John D. Twiggs, which outfit was attached to Robinson's brigade, Butler's division, Hampton's corps, army northern division. He was a man active in civic affairs, being at one time a councilman and member of the board of education of Augusta.

Wires were sent today to all brigade commanders in the Georgia division, and it is expected that hundreds of veterans from all sections of the state will attend the funeral Tuesday.

Continued From First Page.

ATLANTA LEAVE FOR WASHINGTON AIR CONFERENCE

Major Walter A. Sims, accompanied by a committee composed of Captain W. G. Roper, R. E. L. Cone, and Victor H. Kriegshaber, in addition to several officials of the Southeastern Air association, left Atlanta Sunday for Washington, D. C., in the interest of the preparedness and aeronautic exhibitions to be held at the fair this fall.

The party plans to visit President Coolidge, and to confer with army and navy officials regarding sending exhibits to the fair here, and also concerning plans to bring either the Shenandoah or Los Angeles to Atlanta for at least one day during the fair.

Members of the delegation also plan to confer with postoffice officials relative to obtaining a place for Georgia on the proposed southern air mail route.

Continued From First Page.

Atlanta and Savannah defended one end of this bridge, when firing started on the Mexican side.

He entered the Confederate army at the age of 15, enlisting as a private in company K, First South Carolina cavalry, serving under his father, Colonel John D. Twiggs, which outfit was attached to Robinson's brigade, Butler's division, Hampton's corps, army northern division. He was a man active in civic affairs, being at one time a councilman and member of the board of education of Augusta.

Wires were sent today to all brigade commanders in the Georgia division, and it is expected that hundreds of veterans from all sections of the state will attend the funeral Tuesday.

Continued From First Page.

Atlanta and Savannah defended one end of this bridge, when firing started on the Mexican side.

He entered the Confederate army at the age of 15, enlisting as a private in company K, First South Carolina cavalry, serving under his father, Colonel John D. Twiggs, which outfit was attached to Robinson's brigade, Butler's division, Hampton's corps, army northern division. He was a man active in civic affairs, being at one time a councilman and member of the board of education of Augusta.

Wires were sent today to all brigade commanders in the Georgia division, and it is expected that hundreds of veterans from all sections of the state will attend the funeral Tuesday.

Continued From First Page.

Atlanta and Savannah defended one end of this bridge, when firing started on the Mexican side.

He entered the Confederate army at the age of 15, enlisting as a private in company K, First South Carolina cavalry, serving under his father, Colonel John D. Twiggs, which outfit was attached to Robinson's brigade, Butler's division, Hampton's corps, army northern division. He was a man active in civic affairs, being at one time a councilman and member of the board of education of Augusta.

Wires were sent today to all brigade commanders in the Georgia division, and it is expected that hundreds of veterans from all sections of the state will attend the funeral Tuesday.

Continued From First Page.

Atlanta and Savannah defended one end of this bridge, when firing started on the Mexican side.

He entered the Confederate army at the age of 15, enlisting as a private in company K, First South Carolina cavalry, serving under his father, Colonel John D. Twiggs, which outfit was attached to Robinson's brigade, Butler's division, Hampton's corps, army northern division. He was a man active in civic affairs, being at one time a councilman and member of the board of education of Augusta.

Wires were sent today to all brigade commanders in the Georgia division, and it is expected that hundreds of veterans from all sections of the state will attend the funeral Tuesday.

Continued From First Page.

Atlanta and Savannah defended one end of this bridge, when firing started on the Mexican side.

He entered the Confederate army at the age of 15, enlisting as a private in company K, First South Carolina cavalry, serving under his father, Colonel John D. Twiggs, which outfit was attached to Robinson's brigade, Butler's division, Hampton's corps, army northern division. He was a man active in civic affairs, being at one time a councilman and member of the board of education of Augusta.

Wires were sent today to all brigade commanders in the Georgia division, and it is expected that hundreds of veterans from all sections of the state will attend the funeral Tuesday.

Continued From First Page.

Atlanta and Savannah defended one end of this bridge, when firing started on the Mexican side.

He entered the Confederate army at the age of 15, enlisting as a private in company K, First South Carolina cavalry, serving under his father, Colonel John D. Twiggs, which outfit was attached to Robinson's brigade, Butler's division, Hampton's corps, army northern division. He was a man active in civic affairs, being at one time a councilman and member of the board of education of Augusta.

Wires were sent today to all brigade commanders in the Georgia division, and it is expected that hundreds of veterans from all sections of the state will attend the funeral Tuesday.

Continued From First Page.

Atlanta and Savannah defended one end of this bridge, when firing started on the Mexican side.

He entered the Confederate army at the age of 15, enlisting as a private in company K, First South Carolina cavalry, serving under his father, Colonel John D. Twiggs, which outfit was attached to Robinson's brigade, Butler's division, Hampton's corps, army northern division. He was a man active in civic affairs, being at one time a councilman and member of the board of education of Augusta.

Wires were sent today to all brigade commanders in the Georgia division, and it is expected that hundreds of veterans from all sections of the state will attend the funeral Tuesday.

Continued From First Page.

Atlanta and Savannah defended one end of this bridge, when firing started on the Mexican side.

He entered the Confederate army at the age of 15, enlisting as a private in company K, First South Carolina cavalry, serving under his father, Colonel John D. Twiggs, which outfit was attached to Robinson's brigade, Butler's division, Hampton's corps, army northern division. He was a man active in civic affairs, being at one time a councilman and member of the board of education of Augusta.

Wires were sent today to all brigade commanders in the Georgia division, and it is expected that hundreds of veterans from all sections of the state will attend the funeral Tuesday.

Continued From First Page.

Atlanta and Savannah defended one end of this bridge, when firing started on the Mexican side.

He entered the Confederate army at the age of 15, enlisting as a private in company K, First South Carolina cavalry, serving under his father, Colonel John D. Twiggs, which outfit was attached to Robinson's brigade, Butler's division, Hampton's corps, army northern division. He was a man active in civic affairs, being at one time a councilman and member of the board of education of Augusta.

Wires were sent today to all brigade commanders in the Georgia division, and it is expected that hundreds of veterans from all sections of the state will attend the funeral Tuesday.

Continued From First Page.

Atlanta and Savannah defended one end of this bridge, when firing started on the Mexican side.

He entered the Confederate army at the age of 15, enlisting as a private in company K, First South Carolina cavalry, serving under his father, Colonel John D. Twiggs, which outfit was attached to Robinson's brigade, Butler's division, Hampton's corps, army northern division. He was a man active in civic affairs, being at one time a councilman and member of the board of education of Augusta.

Wires were sent today to all brigade commanders in the Georgia division, and it is expected that hundreds of veterans from all sections of the state will attend the funeral Tuesday.

Continued From First Page.

Atlanta and Savannah defended one end of this bridge, when firing started on the Mexican side.

He entered the Confederate army at the age of 15, enlisting as a private in company K, First South Carolina cavalry, serving under his father, Colonel John D. Twiggs, which outfit was attached to Robinson's brigade, Butler's division, Hampton's corps, army northern division. He was a man active in civic affairs, being at one time a councilman and member of the board of education of Augusta.

Wires were sent today to all brigade commanders in the Georgia division, and it is expected that hundreds of veterans from all sections of the state will attend the funeral Tuesday.

FATHER IS SLAIN BY ADOPTED SON IN SHAM BATTLE

Washington, May 31.—George Panapoulos, proprietor of a Greek restaurant, was killed by his 8-year-old adopted son, Stephen Kokinias, as the result of a mock battle in which an automatic pistol, with which the boy was playing suddenly went off.

Panapoulos procured two pistols, which he had not used for some time, and he and the boy engaged in a sham battle in the restaurant Sunday afternoon.

The boy became frightened, it is thought, and fired the pistol. When he saw his adopted father fall, he rushed wildly from the restaurant, and could not be found for several hours. He was not arrested.

Continued From First Page.

Atlanta and Savannah defended one end of this bridge, when firing started on the Mexican side.

He entered the Confederate army at the age of 15, enlisting as a private in company K, First South Carolina cavalry, serving under his father, Colonel John D. Twiggs, which outfit was attached to Robinson's brigade, Butler's division, Hampton's corps, army northern division. He was a man active in civic affairs, being at one time a councilman and member of the board of education of Augusta.

Wires were sent today to all brigade commanders in the Georgia division, and it is expected that hundreds of veterans from all sections of the state will attend the funeral Tuesday.

Continued From First Page.

Atlanta and Savannah defended one end of this bridge, when firing started on the Mexican side.

He entered the Confederate army at the age of 15, enlisting as a private in company K, First South Carolina cavalry, serving under his father, Colonel John D. Twiggs, which outfit was attached to Robinson's brigade, Butler's division, Hampton's corps, army northern division. He was a man active in civic affairs, being at one time a councilman and member of the board of education of Augusta.

Wires were sent today to all brigade commanders in the Georgia division, and it is expected that hundreds of veterans from all sections of the state will attend the funeral Tuesday.

Continued From First Page.

Atlanta and Savannah defended one end of this bridge, when firing started on the Mexican side.

He entered the Confederate army at the age of 15, enlisting as a private in company K, First South Carolina cavalry, serving under his father, Colonel John D. Twiggs, which outfit was attached to Robinson's brigade, Butler's division, Hampton's corps, army northern division. He was a man active in civic affairs, being at one time a councilman and member of the board of education of Augusta.

Wires were sent today to all brigade commanders in the Georgia division, and it is expected that hundreds of veterans from all sections of the state will attend the funeral Tuesday.

Continued From First Page.

Atlanta and Savannah defended one end of this bridge, when firing started on the Mexican side.

He entered the Confederate army at the age of 15, enlisting as a private in company K, First South Carolina cavalry, serving under his father, Colonel John D. Twiggs, which outfit was attached to Robinson's brigade, Butler's division, Hampton's corps, army northern division. He was a man active in civic affairs, being at one time a councilman and member of the board of education of Augusta.

Wires were sent today to all brigade commanders in the Georgia division, and it is expected that hundreds of veterans from all sections of the state will attend the funeral Tuesday.

Continued From First Page.

Atlanta and Savannah defended one end of this bridge, when firing started on the Mexican side.

He entered the Confederate army at the age of 15, enlisting as a private in company K, First South Carolina cavalry, serving under his father, Colonel John D. Twiggs, which outfit was attached to Robinson's brigade, Butler's division, Hampton's corps, army northern division. He was a man active in civic affairs, being at one time a councilman and member of the board of education of Augusta.

Wires were sent today to all brigade commanders in the Georgia division, and it is expected that hundreds of veterans from all sections of the state will attend the funeral Tuesday.

Continued From First Page.

Atlanta and Savannah defended one end of this bridge, when firing started on the Mexican side.

He entered the Confederate army at the age of 15, enlisting as a private in company K, First South Carolina cavalry, serving under his father

WORKERS DIE IN MEXICO BLAST

Mexico City, May 31.—(By the Associated Press.)—Official reports received today by the department of industry and commerce say that 10 Mexican workmen and one American were killed Friday in an explosion while drilling the El Aguila Oil company's number 20 well on the Cerro de la Cruz in the Tampico region. Up to last night would-be rescuers were unable to approach the scene of the tragedy on account of noxious gases.

SIX MINERS DIE IN PACHUCA FIRE

Mexico City, May 31.—(By the Associated Press.)—Six miners are known to have been killed and three others are missing in consequence of a fire Saturday in one of the levels of the El Bordo mine in the city of Pachuca. Forty-nine miners were overcome by gas, but their condition is said to be not dangerous.

5 OF INDIANA FAMILY ARE KILLED BY TRAIN

Hamilton, Ohio, May 31.—Five members of an Indiana family of six were killed, and the sixth, a boy of 10, was injured severely when their automobile was struck by a Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Western railroad passenger train near here today. The son, the only surviving member of the family, is in a critical condition. He is suffering from a fractured skull.

Over-size Duofold Duette, 11 1/2, Duofold Jr. Duette, 10 1/2, Duofold Duette, 9 1/2, Duofold Duette, 8 1/2, Duofold Duette, 7 1/2, Duofold Duette, 6 1/2, Duofold Duette, 5 1/2, Duofold Duette, 4 1/2, Duofold Duette, 3 1/2, Duofold Duette, 2 1/2, Duofold Duette, 1 1/2, Duofold Duette, 1/2.

This June-Time Gift

Will Inspire Your Friends to Write You

For Graduation, Weddings, Sailings, Parties, Birthdays

Duofold Pen and Duofold Pencil—The New Duofold Pen and Pencil Gift Set has won the heart of the world—because, symmetrical, in hand—smooth lacquer-red, or in flashing plain black, both styles gold trimmed.

Our Lady Duofold Pen and Pencil are still of small girls to fit slim fingers. But the Duofold Jr. and "Big Brother" Duofold Pencils are now both built Over-size.

For men learned from the Duofold Pen how an Over-size Barrel affords a man-size grip that abolishes finger cramp, and relaxes hand and brain. Every Parker Duofold Pen has the super-smooth Duofold Point that's guaranteed, if not misused, for 25 years' wear. Now is the time to pick out these Duofold June Gifts.

THE PARKER PEN COMPANY
Lady Duofold Pen, 10; Duofold Jr. Pen, 11; Duofold Duette Pen, 9; Duofold Duette Pen, 8; Duofold Duette Pen, 7; Duofold Duette Pen, 6; Duofold Duette Pen, 5; Duofold Duette Pen, 4; Duofold Duette Pen, 3; Duofold Duette Pen, 2; Duofold Duette Pen, 1; Duofold Duette Pen, 1/2.

Parker
Pens and Pencils
MILLER'S BOOK STORE
LOCAL AGENTS

Noted Singers Here for City's First Light Opera Season

Photograph by J. T. Holloway.

Left to right: Seated, William McLeod, Louise Hunter, Thomas Conkey, Irene Dunn, Louise Ethel Wright, Charlotte Ryan, Director Paul Eisler, Anne Yago; standing, Fred Palmer, assistant stage director; Louis Morton, stage director; Dr. Karl Reidel, musical director; and Dudley Marwick. This picture, which was taken on the terrace at the Atlanta Biltmore, also shows one of the statues which has been on exhibit as a part of the Grand Central Art Galleries' collection from New York.

SINGERS ARRIVE FOR LIGHT OPERA

Continued from First Page.

young people in its cast at one time," he asserted. "These singers have all done big things and, for the most part, their Atlanta light opera season this year marks another step in their careers toward the places occupied today by the Martinellis, the Galli Curcis, the Giglis and the Jeritzas of the operatic and concert stage. Indeed, Miss Hunter, Miss Ryan and Mr. Meader already rank as among the best artists of all the world-famous ones of the Metropolitan."

Numerous Orders Received.

Mr. Bidwell stated that the south in general has recognized Atlanta's first light opera season as an event of great importance in the section's musical development, as indicated by hundreds of orders for complete season sets of tickets received from music lovers in most of the southern cities which have for years past paid annual tribute to Atlanta's musical leadership through attendance at grand opera.

General sale of single performance as well as season ticket sets will be in progress at the Light Opera company headquarters at 84 North Broad street from this morning until the night of the opening in "The Mikado," Monday June 15. Backed by a $100,000 guarantee fund subscribed by leading music patrons of Atlanta, the company has put the tickets on a popular price scale ranging from 50 cents to $2 to enable regular attendance of all Atlantans and music lovers throughout the south.

"Because light opera appeals to a much larger number of people than grand opera, with which Atlanta is more familiar, it is probable that the light opera season will draw even more people to Atlanta during its six weeks than the grand opera season does," Mr. Bidwell said.

"The auditorium is being prepared to afford every summer comfort and the rehearsals of the principals which start this week will be pressed to assure perfect productions of each of the light operas selected," he promised.

Opera Program.

The program will be "The Mikado," by Gilbert and Sullivan, the entire week of June 15; "The Prince of Pilsen," by Luders, the week of June 22; "The Spring Maid," by Reinhardt, Baron, by Strauss, the week of July 6; "The Firefly," by Fryd, the week of July 13, and "Sweethearts," by Victor Herbert, the week of July 20. Paul Eisler and Dr. Karl Reidel are musical directors; Louis Morton and Fred Palmer are stage directors.

CHURCH REFUSES LETTER TO DR. FOX

Continued from First Page.

today caused a sensation among the thousand students of the university and the faculty members, many of whom admired Dr. Fox and sympathized with him in his difficulties with the trustees of the university, who ordered that he be deposed.

It was in October of last year that Dr. Fox was deposed as head of the department of biology at Mercer. The action of the trustees followed an investigation of the teaching of the theory of evolution by Dr. Fox, but the dismissal was not based upon any findings in connection with the teaching of that theory, but instead upon his alleged modernistic beliefs.

U. S. EYE EXPERT PLANS SURVEY WORK ABROAD

Baltimore, May 31.—(By the Associated Press.)—Dr. William H. Wilmer, of Washington, noted ophthalmologist, will sail Tuesday on the liner Resolute from New York to make a survey of research methods in Europe, preparatory to the opening of a $2,000,000 institute at Johns Hopkins for the study and treatment of diseases of the eye and causes of blindness, it was announced today by the Johns Hopkins trustees.

Georgia Country Bankers Meet in Savannah June 17

When the Country Bankers' Association of Georgia convenes in Savannah on June 17 for a three-days meeting, one entire day will be devoted to discussion of the proposal that the federal government abandon inheritance taxes, leaving this tax source exclusively to the states, if they wish to avail themselves of it.

Many governors of states, their representatives, senators, and congressmen are expected to attend. L. R. Adams, secretary of the association, Sunday stated that seven governors have indicated they may attend in person and seven others expect to send representatives if unable to be present.

Governor Clifford Walker is also expected to address the session on "Building a Greater Georgia."

The only formal meeting scheduled for June 17, the opening day, will be the annual dinner, to be given at the Hotel Savannah at 8 o'clock at night. Entertainment features also will be arranged for the afternoon and night of June 18. The morning session of June 19 will be devoted to discussion of subjects involving the welfare of Georgia, among the topics listed being "Present and Future of King Cotton in the South," "What Tobacco Has Done for My County," "Looking at Georgia" (Greater Georgia Movement), "Do Country Banks Give Too Much Free Service," "Mistakes of the Past and How to Avoid Them," "What Are the Proper Functions of Country Banks and How Many Do We Need," "What Has Lost Confidence Cost Country Banks and How to Restore It," "Beating the Boll Weevil to the Cotton Boll."

It is expected that the last subject will be discussed by Dr. R. J. H. DeLoach, of the Armour Fertilizer Works, who has successfully conducted the "Armour Farms" in Calhoun county.

The afternoon session June 19 will be an executive meeting for election of officers, hearing of reports, and transaction of other association business.

Reaches East Indies.

Broome, Western Australia, May 31.—On his flight from Italy to Japan, the Italian airman, Commander de Pinedo, arrived here today from Ceylang, Dutch East Indies. He will make flights from here to Melbourne, where he will stay three weeks and overhaul his plane.

At the end of the sermon, John D. Rockefeller, Sr., shook Dr. Fosdick's hand and congratulated him upon his "eloquent and thrilling sermon." Then with his son, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and Winthrop Rockefeller, he stood under the pulpit and greeted the parishioners.

Several times he presented new dimes to children as they passed by and patted them on the head.

Georgia Country Bankers Meet in Savannah June 17

When the Country Bankers' Association of Georgia convenes in Savannah on June 17 for a three-days meeting, one entire day will be devoted to discussion of the proposal that the federal government abandon inheritance taxes, leaving this tax source exclusively to the states, if they wish to avail themselves of it.

Many governors of states, their representatives, senators, and congressmen are expected to attend. L. R. Adams, secretary of the association, Sunday stated that seven governors have indicated they may attend in person and seven others expect to send representatives if unable to be present.

Governor Clifford Walker is also expected to address the session on "Building a Greater Georgia."

The only formal meeting scheduled for June 17, the opening day, will be the annual dinner, to be given at the Hotel Savannah at 8 o'clock at night. Entertainment features also will be arranged for the afternoon and night of June 18. The morning session of June 19 will be devoted to discussion of subjects involving the welfare of Georgia, among the topics listed being "Present and Future of King Cotton in the South," "What Tobacco Has Done for My County," "Looking at Georgia" (Greater Georgia Movement), "Do Country Banks Give Too Much Free Service," "Mistakes of the Past and How to Avoid Them," "What Are the Proper Functions of Country Banks and How Many Do We Need," "What Has Lost Confidence Cost Country Banks and How to Restore It," "Beating the Boll Weevil to the Cotton Boll."

It is expected that the last subject will be discussed by Dr. R. J. H. DeLoach, of the Armour Fertilizer Works, who has successfully conducted the "Armour Farms" in Calhoun county.

The afternoon session June 19 will be an executive meeting for election of officers, hearing of reports, and transaction of other association business.

Reaches East Indies.

Broome, Western Australia, May 31.—On his flight from Italy to Japan, the Italian airman, Commander de Pinedo, arrived here today from Ceylang, Dutch East Indies. He will make flights from here to Melbourne, where he will stay three weeks and overhaul his plane.

At the end of the sermon, John D. Rockefeller, Sr., shook Dr. Fosdick's hand and congratulated him upon his "eloquent and thrilling sermon." Then with his son, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and Winthrop Rockefeller, he stood under the pulpit and greeted the parishioners.

Several times he presented new dimes to children as they passed by and patted them on the head.

U. S. EYE EXPERT PLANS SURVEY WORK ABROAD

Baltimore, May 31.—(By the Associated Press.)—Dr. William H. Wilmer, of Washington, noted ophthalmologist, will sail Tuesday on the liner Resolute from New York to make a survey of research methods in Europe, preparatory to the opening of a $2,000,000 institute at Johns Hopkins for the study and treatment of diseases of the eye and causes of blindness, it was announced today by the Johns Hopkins trustees.

Dr. Winford H. Smith, director of Johns Hopkins hospital said today that the first unit of the new institute which will be under the direction of Dr. Wilmer will be opened in the hospital on October 1. Plans for a new building which will house the institute later, however, will not be made until Dr. Wilmer's return from Europe in August.

Packinghouse Paragraphs ---

Progress and Expansion!

THE HISTORY of this Packinghouse has been one of periodical enlargement and continual expansion ever since it was founded some twenty years ago.

Upon occasions during past years capacity of the plant proved inadequate to production demands with even a more or less localized market, and the recently completed enlargements of the plant to more than double its former greatest capacity were the results of a constantly growing public demand for its products.

This Packinghouse is now one of Atlanta's million-dollar industries that is shipping its products to the four corners of the South, where Cornfield quality has planted its standard of popularity, and been given a flattering ovation by scores of eagerly waiting markets.

White's delicious fresh and smoked meats enjoy a reputation for quality second to none in America. They are produced in a Packinghouse that for thorough modernness in construction, appointment, plant standards, production, efficiency, cleanliness and sanitation is second to none in the world.

Add to these highly favorable conditions the jurisdiction of Government inspection, and we have a finely-rounded-out completeness in organization, administration and production.

WHITE'S MEATS ARE ALL
U. S. INSPECTED AND PASSED

WHITE PROVISION CO.

"Federal Inspection Is Your Protection"

Write for Booklet, "Thru a Modern Packing Plant"

WEEK-END AND SUMMER EXCURSION FARES

TYBEE$12.85
PABLO BEACH$15.40

Tickets on sale Fridays and Saturdays.
Final limit following Tuesday.

TYBEE$17.10
PABLO BEACH$20.30

Tickets on sale daily. Final limit September 30, 1925.

REDUCED FARES TO MANY OTHER POINTS

Ticket Office 18 Walton St.
Phones Walnut 5018-5019

W. H. FOGG, Division Passenger Agent
219 Healey Bldg. Phone Walnut 0426

Central of Georgia Railway

"The Right Way"

THEATRICAL WOMAN IS FOUND MURDERED

Boston, May 31.—(By the Associated Press.)—Mrs. Mae Price, of New York, wardrobe mistress for a theatrical company, was found strangled to death in her room in a south end hotel today. She had been beaten and $75 in cash was missing from her belongings.

The body was found face down on the bed by an elevator operator after telephone calls to the room went unanswered. The woman's hands had been tied behind her back. She was tall and robust, and it was evident that she had fought for her life. One eye was discolored and there were marks of blows on her head and body.

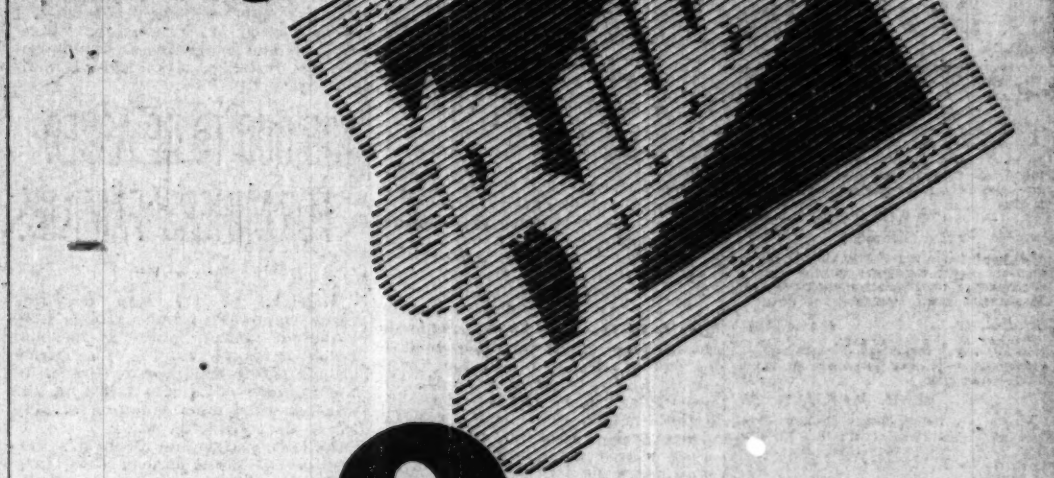

Mrs. Price was the wife of William Price, a New York stage carpenter.

The company which employed Mrs. Price, a musical comedy troupe, was here last night.

When Better Automobiles Are Built, Buick Will Build Them

No. 15

Question: Why is a Buick so safe and so easy to steer?

Answer: Because of Buick's wonderful steering mechanism. It is the most expensive type now installed on any motor car—and worth the difference because it adds to Buick performance still another point of superiority.

ATLANTA BRANCH
241-243 Peachtree Street

OUR GOAL

500 New Friends for

BLUE STREAK
WONDER GAS

This Month

To introduce Blue Streak Wonder Gas to Atlanta motorists we announced its sale at the same price as ordinary gasoline, two months ago. We expected to raise the price at the end of the first month.

But so many thousands of delighted motorists began to use this remarkable gas that we continued the low price for another month. In the second month the steady stream of new users continued.

Now we are selling such a large volume of Blue Streak that we find, to our delight, that we may be able to keep the price of Blue Streak down to the low price levels at which it is now selling.

The only thing that stands in our way is the fact that though our number of friends has increased tremendously, Blue Streak gives from 15 to 25 per cent more mileage and each customer uses less gas.

That's why we want 500 Atlanta motorists to drive into a Reed Station during this month and try Blue Streak. If we get them by June 30th, Blue Streak will remain at its present low price, otherwise the price must advance.

Why not fill up with Blue Streak today—more mileage—no carbon—a better purr to the engine—more pep on the hills—a decreased strain on your pocket book will result.

REED OIL CORPORATION

19 Convenient Stations

On Her Wedding Day

The June bride of 1925 slips away from the custom of wearing an all-white wedding gown and on her wedding day appears with the first strains of Lohengrin's march wearing an exquisite French creation of white and pale green. How appropriate would be the gift of the groom if he selected a diamond-emerald bracelet in one of the distinctive designs now shown in our interesting collection of gifts for the bride.

MAIER & BERKELE, Inc

Established 38 Years

Dawes-Butler Relations Growing More Strained Over Senate Rule Fight

G. O. P. Chairman Seeking Harmony on Eve of Senatorial Election; Dawes Won't Be Quiet.

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER.
Washington, May 31.—Relations between Vice President Charles G. Dawes and Senator William M. Butler, of Massachusetts, chairman of the republican national committee, are drifting back to the same condition they were in on that hot June night at Cleveland almost a year ago. With the republicans in some danger of losing five or six seats in the senate next year, Butler wants harmony above everything else. But Dawes declares he is going to go into the state of every senator who is opposing his revision of the senate rules and stir up the voters. That is the last thing Butler wants to have done, just before a difficult election campaign, but Dawes, always considering politicians contemptuously as a rather cowardly tribe, will let no party leader pull at his bit.

What Butler Feared. This is exactly what Butler feared that night at Cleveland. Frank Lowden had refused the vice presidential nomination and Butler, as the president's floor manager, was left in a somewhat difficult position. He had, so many thought, made several fumbles in the convention and at the moment when the affair was in danger of becoming ludicrous, a band of young Turks, headed by Senator Reed, of Pennsylvania, took matters into their own hands and organized enough delegates to nominate Dawes. Reed informed Butler that Dawes would be nominated on the next ballot.

Then—so tradition goes—ensued this colloquy:

Butler: "It can't be Dawes!"

Reed: "It must be Dawes!"

Dawes Flays Klan. It was Dawes and Butler held his breath to see what Dawes would do. At his first opportunity Dawes lashed out at the Klan and the "petty politicians" who tried to hush him up. Ever since, one of the chief duties of the republican national chairman has been to worry over what Dawes would do next. He squirmed when Dawes attacked racism in an agricultural speech in the west. Then there was that inauguration speech that shocked the senate, into which Butler had meantime advanced through the death of Lodge. Butler's discomfort reached its climax when, attending a luncheon at Boston where Dawes was to speak, he was singled out by the new vice president and called upon to stand and publicly accept the gospel of senate rules revision.

It was, for Butler, a painful duty and only his inborn sense of party loyalty enabled him to rise and faintly signify his general agreement. Now Butler is waiting for an opportunity to state his reservations.

Another Senate Rules. But meanwhile, he is trying to smother the senate rules issue as a political topic. He said here a few days ago that he did not expect it to figure in the senatorial campaign. But as soon as Dawes said that, he made a speech at Birmingham, declaring his intention of going into the strongholds of republicans opposing his plan and clubbing them into line.

In states where the situation is doubtful, as in Indiana, Dawes can make considerable trouble. Senator James Watson is understood to be hostile to the Dawes rules plan. He will have trouble in the primaries, and if nominated in the election, he will attack on him by Dawes at Indianapolis, for instance, would do him serious damage.

$35,000 TO BE ASKED FOR MINERS' FAMILIES

Raleigh, N. C., May 31.—Red Cross chapters in North Carolina were requested today by their national headquarters to start the collection of a $35,000 fund for the relief of the families of miners killed in the Carolina coal mine explosion of May 27 at Coal Glen, N. C.

Following Governor McLean's designation of the American Red Cross to handle all relief work for the miners' families, the Red Cross today announced an appropriation of $30,000 to the fund. The administrative expenses of the work will be paid for by the Red Cross, which will continue a further donation to the sufferers. Additional trained disaster relief workers are being dispatched to Sanford to supplement the Red Cross staff already there.

Coal Glen, N. C., May 31.—With funeral rites said over the last of the 53 miners whose bodies were taken from the Carolina coal mine following the triple explosion of Wednesday, rescue workers today were sent back into the mine in search of additional bodies, but returned empty handed.

The task now before Coal Glen is one of relief for the mine disaster sufferers, estimated by mine officials to be 50 widows, more than 100 orphans and their relatives, the exact number of which has not yet been determined. Active relief work is already under way.

Representative of the United States department of commerce, who are here investigating the causes of the disaster, will not have their report ready for several days.

Religion Perfect, Politics Imperfect, Says W. J. Bryan

Columbus, Ohio, May 31.—William Jennings Bryan, fighting anti-evolutionism, has reconciled modernism in politics with fundamentalism in religion.

While attending the general assembly of the Presbyterian church the commoner said:

"People often ask me why I can be a progressive in politics and a fundamentalist in religion. The answer is easy. Government is man-made and therefore imperfect. It can always be improved. But religion is not a man-made affair. If Christ is the final word, how can anyone be progressive in religion?"

"I am satisfied with the God we have, with the Bible and with Christ. The question we should ask of ourselves is the question of Pilate at the trial of Christ."

"What shall I do with Jesus?" "It is our privilege to accept or reject Him. Some men talk of Him as the product of evolution; He cannot be, for then He should have had a predecessor and a successor."

TWO CONFESS PLOT AGAINST ACTRESS

Continued From First Page.

His confession matched that of Wood. The department one of the most exciting periods in its history. The plot to spirit the famous screen star away became known three weeks ago when a tip from the underworld reached Captain Home.

There wasn't a chance in the world for the kidnappers to carry out their plans. They were shadowed by detectives every minute of the day.

The exact time the kidnapping was to take place became known to Captain Home and John G. Mott, local attorney, rented a room adjoining that of the conspirators.

Heard Details of Plot. They heard them threaten to shoot to kill if necessary to carry out their plans. They were to wear red faces and other Shrine decorations and waylay Mary's automobile after it passed through her studio gates on the way to her Beverly Hills home.

After her capture they were to take Mary to a deserted prospector's shack in a mountain canyon and hold her there until the ransom was paid. Saturday the stage was set. Captain Home and a detail of detectives arrived in front of the Pickford studio shortly after 4 o'clock. Six rhy at 5 a. c. decorated with Shrine emblems and colored bunting drove up to the exit gates of the studio.

The three men in the car wore red faces. They carelessly threw the door and dangled their legs over the running board and waited.

Two Rush Inside Gate. The nonchalant study gates slowly opened as if to permit a car to pass through them from the studio. As this happened two of the conspirators left their parked car and rushed for the gate, the third remaining.

"Sidewalks of New York" Author Dies Blind and Poor

LAWLER'S SONG WAS RALLYING CRY FOR TAMMANY

BY ROBERT D. LUSK.
New York, May 31.—Charles Bennett Lawlor, the poet laureate of the great east side, whose minstrelsy has been the rallying cry of the democratic forces of Tammany for 30 years, has left forever the city whose crowded tenement districts he touched with romance in his song, "The Sidewalks of New York."

Lawlor, who died Sunday from a heart attack, had planned to celebrate his 73rd birthday next Tuesday. His funeral has been arranged for that day. But it is doubtful whether the organization whose battle cry he furnished will pause to mark his passing.

Charles Lawlor had long been forgotten by the men who "never forget a friend." Stone blind, he was forced to earn his living playing a small act in the two-day vaudeville circuits, singing in an unsteady, piping voice songs reminiscent of the days when "Big-hearted Tom" Foley knew him as a valued friend.

It was while coming home from a beefsteak and chowder party at Murphy's old saloon that the idea for the tune that has since become a folk song started running through Lawlor's mind. That was before Murphy became Charles F. Murphy, the Tammany chief, and quite a gang had been partaking freely of beer and champagne.

"Ma, I've got a swell idea for a song," Lawlor announced to his wife when he arrived home that night.

"Go to bed and sleep it off," his wife told him.

But the idea kept swirling through his brain until he got up out of bed and jotted down a few notes. The next day he wrote "The Sidewalks of New York."

But the meagre profits—about $5,000—which Lawlor received from his song never worried the old man as much as the neglect of his friends whose good fellowship he had immortalized.

When William G. McAdoo and Al Smith were fighting to break the deadlock through the sweltering days of balloting at the democratic convention in Madison Square Garden last summer, Charles Lawlor took the nomination for president. Despite the heat, the lifting song never failed to stir the delegates.

Let it be said that Charles Lawlor received his meagre end.

A newspaperman had found Charles in a dressing room of the 10-20-30-cent theaters of Brooklyn and had taken him to the Garden.

"Oh, yes, glad to see you," said "Big-hearted Tom" Foley, who has since died, and others. Then they hurried on and blind Charles Lawlor, realizing that his old pals either forgot him or didn't care, was guided back onto the sidewalks of New York to die less than a year later in obscurity.

SHORT SKIRTS BARRED FROM CHICAGO SCHOOLS

Chicago, May 31.—The school boards of Chicago have been told firmly but gently that the abbreviated style of skirt has no place in the public schools.

The dangerous business of suggesting how women should dress has been undertaken by William McAndrew, superintendent of the Chicago public schools. The superintendent, cautiously enough, has ventured the opinion that some of the school teachers are "wearing their higher" than, for instance, is perfectly proper before a class in arithmetic.

Superintendent McAndrew's vote, it became known today, has been cast for something an inch or so longer as well as a bit looser.

The teachers, officially, have disclaimed to take any notice of their superintendent's sartorial views. The principals of the various schools are trying diplomatically to avert war by arguing that the short skirt is really going out of style.

Rockefeller Memorial Distributed $6,580,987 In Gifts During 1924

New York, May 31.—Educational, recreational, social and medical activities in the United States and abroad received gifts totaling $6,580,987 from the Laura Spelman Rockefeller memorial during 1924, the annual report announced today.

Donations totaling $2,154,580 for research work in social and political science were distributed to various colleges and universities, including the London School of Economics and Political Science, in England. The memorial gave more than $100,000 to libraries in foreign countries, whose currencies had depreciated for purchase of books and periodicals from other countries.

Other gifts included $497,500 for study of child life and child welfare; $35,250 to the Girl Scouts national organization; $50,000 to the Salvation Army; $155,700 to various recreational and playground organizations; $320,200 to Young Women's Christian Association organizations, and $300,000 to Young Men's Christian Association.

To Hold Conference. Charleston, S. C., May 31.—A conference of Episcopal boys over fourteen years of age will be held at Porter Military academy June 10 to 14. It is announced. Boys from every part of the south will be invited to participate, it is stated. The conference will be presided over by Rev. O. D. Randolph, of Birmingham.

Bankers To Meet. Conway, S. C., May 31.—The annual convention of group six, of the South Carolina Bankers' association will be held June 2 and 3 at Myrtle Beach. It is announced by W. B. King, secretary and treasurer.

Through Drawing-room Sleeping Car Daily to COLORADO-YELLOWSTONE via the DIXIE FLYER and PACIFIC COAST LIMITED

Effective, from Jacksonville, May 30th, a twelve-section drawing-room sleeping car will be operated to Denver, Colorado, with connections for Yellowstone National Park. Effective June 17th, this sleeper will be operated through to West Yellowstone, the western entrance to Yellowstone National Park.

Effective, from Jacksonville, May 30th, a twelve-section drawing-room sleeping car will be operated to Denver, Colorado, with connections for Yellowstone National Park. Effective June 17th, this sleeper will be operated through to West Yellowstone, the western entrance to Yellowstone National Park.

STORE AND RESIDENCE LOOTED BY THIEVES

The cigar and confectionary store, operated by M. R. Morgan at 4 North Ashby street, was entered by thieves early Sunday morning and a quantity of cigars and cigarettes taken, according to a report to detectives late Sunday.

J. Feldman, 184 Capital avenue, reported the theft of $80 from his pocketbook, which was taken from his trousers during the early hours Sunday morning while he was asleep at his home.

W. T. Steele Sunday reported the loss of $80 in cash and a note for $325.

THREE NEGROES KILLED SUNDAY IN MERIWETHER

Greenville, Ga., May 31.—Three negroes were shot to death and a fourth was seriously wounded in a series of shootings in Meriwether county today.

While en route here with Otis Woodward, negro, whom he had arrested for killing Lorenz Hubbard and Will Woodward, his aged father and seriously wounding Oscar Wil-

No account too large; none too small

Saved Money Lost Is a Tragedy

THE first principle of successful saving is to be sure that the money you have saved will not be lost. That point being taken care of, it is time to commence thinking about the returns you can make your money earn.

While you are saving enough to make an investment, the Savings Department of the Citizens and Southern Bank is not only a safe place for your money, but it is a profitable place. We will pay you compound interest—and compound interest SURE is better than a higher rate MAYBE.

On deposits made before the close of business on June 6th, we will pay you a full month's interest on July 1st. That interest will then commence to draw interest.

Citizens & Southern Bank

Marietta at Broad Peachtree at Tenth Candler Building Mitchell at Forsyth

TODAY--

Is Our Birthday!

We Are Two Years Old Today and Still a-Growing

Two years ago today we were total strangers in Atlanta and Henard's products were unknown in this market and the territory to the south of Atlanta. We came and brought with us recipes of tested merit, our finances and references, experienced men for manufacturing and marketing, a firm belief that the ladies of this territory would appreciate a high-class food product made right and marketed fresh and, last, but not least, we brought our families to make Atlanta our home, having every confidence in our products and in the fact that they would be recognized for their merit which would enable us to remain here and become permanent residents of Atlanta and for Atlanta.

Our expectations have been more than justified. We have never varied from the high standard of excellence in the manner of making and marketing our products and the results have been very gratifying—in fact, have exceeded our expectations. Henard's Mayonnaise, Henard's Sandwich Relish and Henard's Thousand Island Dressing were tried and tested by the ladies of Atlanta and met with instant approval, and today, after two short years, we are glad to say that the busy housewife can find our products on practically every food store shelf in the South Atlantic states, delivered to them fresh from our conveniently located factory by express.

Many things have contributed to the success which we have attained and we take this opportunity of expressing our appreciation. First, of course, to the ladies who have recognized the superior quality of our products. Then to the Jobbers and Brokers and their salesmen on down the course of distribution to the retailer and his salesmen and store help, and to our own loyal corps of workers whose enthusiasm and indefatigable efforts have done so much toward putting the Henard line first in the field in this territory.

Henard's Mayonnaise

Henard's Sandwich Relish

Henard's Thousand Island Dressing

Henard Mayonnaise Co.

477 Whitehall St. Telephone MAin 4762

22-NASHVILLE, CHATTANOOGA & ST. LOUIS RY.

Dining cars serving all meals.

For sleeping car reservations, illustrated booklets and other information apply to

G. B. HARRIS N. C. & S. L. Ry. 101 Marietta St. ATLANTA, GA.

K. T. ALEXANDER L. & N. Ry. 101 Marietta St. ATLANTA, GA.

Dissemina Representatives ATLANTA, GA.

Dissemina Representatives ATLANTA, GA.

8 Day Cruise Great Lakes

THE steel steamships, Titoness, Janes and Ottumwa of the Great Lakes Transit Corporation sail every three days from all the principal ports on Lake Erie, Lake Huron, Lake Superior.

1870 MILES From Cleveland of incomparable scenery on luxurious ships—a world renowned cuisine and the finest of sleeping accommodations. Meals and berth included in fare.

ORCHESTRA DANCING For further information, tickets and reservations call any Tourist or R. R. Ticket Agent, or

M. B. MEAD, G. A. Great Lakes Transit Corp., Foot of 9th St., N. W., Cleveland, Ohio.

Every Day the Same Old Backache?

HOUR after hour, day in and day out, that dull, unceasing throb? Tortured with sharp, stabbing twinges—so lame, weak, all tired-out, you just can't enjoy a moment's comfort?

Too often this condition is due to the kidneys not properly eliminating the body poisons. Blood and nerves are upset and many distressing aches and ills result. Your back aches; is lame and stiff. You have headaches, dizziness and distressing kidney irregularities.

Don't let kidney trouble get a firm hold. If your kidneys are inactive, help them with a tested diuretic. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's act on the kidneys only. They are used and recommended the world over. Ask your neighbor!

"Use Doan's," Say Atlanta Folks.

H. D. FULCHER, 474 Vicksburg Ave., says: "I had terrible hurting in the small of my back and when I straightened up after stooping, sharp pains cut across my kidneys. My kidneys weren't active enough either. It didn't take Doan's Pills long to make me feel like a different woman. Doan's put an end to kidney complaint."

MRS. V. G. JOHNSON, 110 McDaniel St., says: "Mornings the muscles in my back were so stiff and drawn I could hardly move. Sharp pains across my kidneys taxed my strength to the utmost. My kidneys acted too often. I had dizzy spells. The trouble made me nervous. Doan's Pills, cured me and I can't say enough in their praise."

Doan's Pills

Stimulant Diuretic to the Kidneys 60c all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfg. Chemists, Buffalo, N. Y.

Beginning Tuesday, June 2nd, and continuing through the week, we will have

ON DISPLAY AT THE

Ivy Street Garage

23-33 Ivy St.

a selection of Lincoln automobiles, which you are cordially invited to inspect.

Ripley Motor Co.

Lincoln Motor Cars

T. A. RIPPEY, Jr., Pres.-Treas. F. O. STONE, Vice-Pres. R. E. CULLINANE, Secy.-Mgr.

Lullwater Building Phone HE. 0867

Opposes Unification.

Winthorpe, S. C., May 31.—The plan of unification of the northern and southern churches was voted down when the question was brought up at the Rock Hill district conference of the Methodist church, which concluded its sessions here recently. Although a considerable number of the delegates favored the proposed union, it was defeated by a decided majority.

CANADA WEAK COMMUNITIES. CAPITALISTS SAYS

Two Billions Now Invested, Says Former Cabinet Member

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR.
(Economist, former banker, business man and university teacher and author of the series "Can Europe Hold Together?" and "Can Your Taxes Be Cut?")

The people of Canada understand their national and industrial problems. They are a steadfast people, not given to extremes. I have complete faith in the future of Canada politically, industrially and socially.

In these words Sir Clifford Sifton, one of Canada's prominent business and political leaders, summed up the situation as to Canada's future.

Canada is twice as large as India, which contains 300,000,000 people, and over thirty times as large as the mother country, which contains over 50,000,000. Canada has scarcely 9,000,000.

Canada is rich in raw materials. She needs money to develop her great resources. Up to the war the investments of American capitalists were said to be only one-fifth of the investments made by British people in Canada. Ten years have seen a great change. It is claimed now that the people of the United States have invested in Canada during the past decade more than $2,000,000,000.

Do you see any objection to the investments of large sums of American capital in Canada? He was asked. "None whatever. American capitalists who come to Canada are as a rule shrewd and sensible men of affairs. They are good citizens and never attempt to exert any undue influence on the conduct of our affairs."

Asked of reciprocity, he said: "Not much can be done from outside to reduce the American tariff. His smile is an engaging one. 'We are not the important factor in American tariff-making, and I do not think we should seek to be so. I do not think it practicable to have a permanent working understanding on the tariff between Canada and the United States.'"

No Canadian Split.
Of secession talk heard both in the western and maritime provinces, he said: "Secession talk should not be taken seriously. It has been heard many times in Canadian history. Hot-headed people often make threats and say foolish things, but they do not represent any appreciable percentage of our population. Not one-half of one per cent of native born Canadians could be got to consider secession seriously."

Then he grew more serious. "The maritime provinces, I admit, made a real sacrifice when they became part of the Dominion of Canada, but circumstances have greatly changed and if they were separated from Canada, they would not now occupy the position which they did when they entered confederation. They complain, I believe, of high freight rates and that control of their financial institutions is leaving them. I have great sympathy with them in their difficulties."

"Has the high United States tariff anything to do with this situation?" "Yes, it shuts them out of a very profitable market."

Political Action.
Sir Clifford Sifton was asked whether Canada's real interest lay in the direction of more and more independent political action.

"Our present position within the British commonwealth of nations is very satisfactory," he replied, "except that we are the best neighbor in the world; keeping the peace without a dollar's expense to the United States on 100,000 miles of boundary.

"Our country is young, but potentially very rich. We do not yet know just how rich. We have only begun to study our resources. It is not a mistake, though I am not able to vouch for it, that Canada with just about one-half of one per cent of the world's population, contains 10 per cent of the world's discovered copper; 5 per cent of the gold; 12 per cent of the silver; 20 per cent of the world's cured fish; 32 per cent of the pulp wood; 85 per cent of the nickel; 80 per cent of the asbestos; 90 per cent of the cobalt. We have produced in one year 12 per cent of the wheat and 12 per cent of the barley of the world. I think we rank third in gold production.

"Obviously the possibilities of trade are great. We have some problems to solve. We have a huge national debt of over two billion dollars. I do not know of any way to handle these problems except through the old-fashioned method of hard work and thrift. That, I think, is the method by which our people are attempting to solve them. Business is improving each year. It is becoming sounder every day. We have practically no unemployment in Canada. Any able-bodied man can secure work if he is not too particular about what he does.

"The important thing for the people of Canada and the United States to realize is that under any and all circumstances and conditions they should treat each other with respect, consideration and genuine friendliness."

"I trust that nothing will ever come between them and their present friendly relations. If this principle is imbedded in their hearts we shall never need armies and navies. The United States is continuing her policy of expansion and Canada will gradually take her place in friendly rivalry as one of the great nations of the earth."

Upon the subject of the St. Lawrence deep waterway development, the former cabinet associate of Sir Wilfrid Laurier was particularly enthusiastic.

"Such a development would be of the greatest possible benefit to the people of both countries. It means that Chicago, Duluth, Port Arthur and Fort William will be ocean seaports and there will be no ocean route that will carry a heavier traffic than that from the head of the lakes to our seaboard. The United States, of course, will benefit enormously, as perhaps the wealthiest and most progressive Canadian manufacturing will largely increase. A very large amount of cheap water power will be available on both sides. Heavy manufactured goods can be sent from Toronto or Buffalo to the Pacific coast for less than it takes now to send them to Montreal."

Upon the subject of an export duty on paper and pulp he expressed a decided opinion.

"I have never believed in export duties. We had to sell our paper and pulp to the United States and Canada. We are quick cures for economic ills and invariably produce much more trouble than they remove."

"Sir Clifford, what do you think are some of the basic facts about Canada which the American people should know?" I asked.

The man whose immigration policy as minister of the interior produced the greatest immigration in all Canadian history said:

"Twenty-five years ago the farmers of southern Minnesota did not believe western Canada could raise wheat fit for milling. We had to send samples to southern Minnesota and Dakota to convince the farmers we could raise good milling wheat. The people of Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska had the same notions. In 25 years we have literally become the bread basket of the world. In 1923 we produced approximately 475,000,000 bushels of wheat in a world production of 350,000,000,000—12.2 per cent."

Best Neighbor in World.
"The United States foreign trade with Canada is extremely interesting. She sold to other nations, including the United States, in the fiscal year 1921 a total of $1,058,000,000 of goods. She purchased a total of $880,000,000. In the same year Canada bought goods worth $601,000,000 from the United States and sold to it $1,117,000,000. That is a pretty substantial trade. I would like the people of the United States to remember the very large extent of the peaceful trade which she does with us, and that we are the best neighbor in the world; keeping the peace without a dollar's expense to the United States on 100,000 miles of boundary.

"Our country is young, but potentially very rich. We do not yet know just how rich. We have only begun to study our resources. It is not a mistake, though I am not able to vouch for it, that Canada with just about one-half of one per cent of the world's population, contains 10 per cent of the world's discovered copper; 5 per cent of the gold; 12 per cent of the silver; 20 per cent of the world's cured fish; 32 per cent of the pulp wood; 85 per cent of the nickel; 80 per cent of the asbestos; 90 per cent of the cobalt. We have produced in one year 12 per cent of the wheat and 12 per cent of the barley of the world. I think we rank third in gold production.

"Obviously the possibilities of trade are great. We have some problems to solve. We have a huge national debt of over two billion dollars. I do not know of any way to handle these problems except through the old-fashioned method of hard work and thrift. That, I think, is the method by which our people are attempting to solve them. Business is improving each year. It is becoming sounder every day. We have practically no unemployment in Canada. Any able-bodied man can secure work if he is not too particular about what he does.

"The important thing for the people of Canada and the United States to realize is that under any and all circumstances and conditions they should treat each other with respect, consideration and genuine friendliness."

"I trust that nothing will ever come between them and their present friendly relations. If this principle is imbedded in their hearts we shall never need armies and navies. The United States is continuing her policy of expansion and Canada will gradually take her place in friendly rivalry as one of the great nations of the earth."

Upon the subject of the St. Lawrence deep waterway development, the former cabinet associate of Sir Wilfrid Laurier was particularly enthusiastic.

"Such a development would be of the greatest possible benefit to the people of both countries. It means that Chicago, Duluth, Port Arthur and Fort William will be ocean seaports and there will be no ocean route that will carry a heavier traffic than that from the head of the lakes to our seaboard. The United States, of course, will benefit enormously, as perhaps the wealthiest and most progressive Canadian manufacturing will largely increase. A very large amount of cheap water power will be available on both sides. Heavy manufactured goods can be sent from Toronto or Buffalo to the Pacific coast for less than it takes now to send them to Montreal."

Upon the subject of an export duty on paper and pulp he expressed a decided opinion.

"I have never believed in export duties. We had to sell our paper and pulp to the United States and Canada. We are quick cures for economic ills and invariably produce much more trouble than they remove."

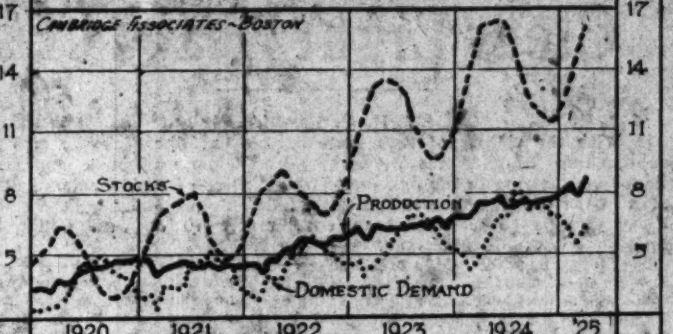

"Sir Clifford, what do you think are some of the basic facts about Canada which the American people should know?" I asked.

The man whose immigration policy as minister of the interior produced the greatest immigration in all Canadian history said:

"Twenty-five years ago the farmers of southern Minnesota did not believe western Canada could raise wheat fit for milling. We had to send samples to southern Minnesota and Dakota to convince the farmers we could raise good milling wheat. The people of Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska had the same notions. In 25 years we have literally become the bread basket of the world. In 1923 we produced approximately 475,000,000 bushels of wheat in a world production of 350,000,000,000—12.2 per cent."

Heavy Consumption and Reduced Stocks Boost Gasoline Prices

Demand for Gasoline Is Great But Production and Stocks Are Also Heavy

Heavy consumption—reduced stocks boost gasoline prices.

Numerous recent notices of advances in the price of gasoline in various sections of the country call attention to the fact that the oil industry is in a position of prosperity that it has been for a long time. A reflection of this optimism is to be seen in the fact that oil securities listed on the New York exchanges have lately shown new signs of life. There have, however, been so many occasions in recent years when hopes have been raised only to be dashed that skepticism must not quickly be overcome now and over-optimism is rather imprudent.

The oil industry's troubles have lain chiefly in over-production and during the last two years, consumption has steadily increased. Evidence of this is shown in the fact that the oil industry is in a position of prosperity that it has been for a long time. A reflection of this optimism is to be seen in the fact that oil securities listed on the New York exchanges have lately shown new signs of life. There have, however, been so many occasions in recent years when hopes have been raised only to be dashed that skepticism must not quickly be overcome now and over-optimism is rather imprudent.

Rather Uneventful Week in Principal Markets

New York, May 31.—Despite a rather uneventful week in the principal financial and commodity markets, signs of increasing business activity accumulated. Further improvement took place in a number of basic industries, and, although gains were moderate, they gave indisputable evidence that constructive forces were at work in many lines of trade.

The open developments continued to promise beneficial results for the trade of the United States and the rest of the world. With Great Britain maintaining its gold position satisfactorily and steadily accumulating additional balances, sterling exchange maintained a strong tone within a fraction of dollar parity. French francs fell below 5 cents, but anxiety over this reaction was allayed by reports that the franc might be revealed on a gold basis around the 5-cent level.

Clarification of debt-funding problems seemed to be making progress. One of the most tangible indications of expanding business activity was found in advancing commodity prices. The grain markets, in particular, quotations took place and the leading tire manufacturers announced that their prices would be raised 5 to 10 per cent on June 1, to conform to the higher cost of raw materials, which recently has soared in value.

Conditions in the steel industry assumed a brighter aspect, both from the standpoint of production and of prices. Indications that the readjustment of output to demand had been nearly completed were seen by the weekly trade reviews, while the price situation of the leading products was reported more stable in many weeks.

For the first time in many weeks a note of encouragement was heard from the primary textile markets, which have undergone more severe depression than most other industries. Improvement in retail buying was reported but curtailment of production was still urged as one of the remedies for the lowered vitality of the cotton and wool goods business.

The volume of freight traffic continued to set new records. Car loadings for the third week of May, the last for which statistics are available, were the highest of the year, and only slightly below the million car mark.

The heavy movement of freight, however, has not been reflected in the earnings of the railroads. Most of the April reports showed lower revenues, partly because the carriers have been operating at a loss on account of increased outlays for improvements and repairs.

In manufacturing activities, the motor industry has continued to report a steady increase in production and sales and production have been reported by several large companies, and the automotive shares have not been slow to reflect these business gains.

Public offering of the Argentine loan will be made this week by the Morgan group, which is understood to have obtained the business on a lower bid than the one finally submitted by the Bank of America.

The Argentine bonds will be priced at 96 to yield 6.25 per cent. Funds derived from the sale will be used to retire maturing bonds, to purchase new Argentine bonds, and to consolidate Argentina's floating debt.

The marketing of $75,000,000 in foreign loans, together with a number of small corporate issues, will break the comparative lull in new financing which has existed for several weeks. Bond offerings last week aggregated $1,000,000,000 compared with $92,000,000 in the preceding week.

$200,000,000 outstanding at any one time. The bank is to bear interest to the extent that it is actually used at a rate of 1 per cent above the New York Reserve bank's discount rate, with a maximum of 4 per cent, or a maximum of 6 per cent, or, if the federal reserve discount rate exceeds 6 per cent, then at the rate of 6 per cent plus the rate of interest to be paid by the British government on the credit which it has established in the United States.

"Upon the purchase of gold, the Bank of England will place on its books to the credit of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York an equivalent deposit in pounds sterling. This deposit may be used from time to time by arrangement with the Bank of England and in that case the Bank of England will be entitled to the payment of interest."

"If occasion arises for the use of this credit, support can be given to sterling exchange either through the purchase of sterling bills in New York or abroad, nor can gold be shipped to other countries on British account. Thus the Bank of England could meet the foreign demand for gold without reducing its own reserves, or it could replenish its reserves by withdrawing gold from this country or by exchanging it in New York. The form in which the credit would be used would depend upon the circumstances at the time."

In approving this arrangement the board said it believed it would be an effective step toward general resumption of gold payments.

BRADSTREET WEEKLY BANK CLEARINGS

Bank clearings in the United States for the week ending May 25, as reported by Bradstreet's Journal, New York: aggregated $8,800,112,000, against $8,000,000,000 week before last, and $7,500,000,000 week before last.

Chicago	$825,000,000	16.9
Philadelphia	594,000,000	12.1
San Francisco	583,000,000	11.9
Pittsburgh	383,240,000	11.0
St. Louis	375,000,000	10.9
Detroit	367,894,000	28.4
San Antonio	314,000,000	10.7
Kansas City	218,000,000	8.2
Indianapolis	166,410,000	11.0
Baltimore	164,000,000	12.5
Richmond	167,152,000	15.3
New Orleans	90,002,000	11.1
Portland, Ore.	36,000,000	6.3
Seattle	33,125,000	11.1
Dallas	40,480,000	14.2
San Jose, Cal.	38,381,000	10.1
Minneapolis	35,428,000	9.3
Portland, Me.	20,288,000	11.8
Denver	30,734,000	10.2
Louisville	23,550,000	8.9
Pittsburgh	23,550,000	8.9
San Francisco	23,550,000	17.6
Washington	28,420,000	36.7
Memphis	18,380,000	7.7
San Antonio	16,408,000	11.1
Indianapolis	16,408,000	11.1
San Jose, Cal.	16,408,000	40.1
Oakland	15,877,000	10.2
Portland, Me.	15,877,000	23.9
Columbus	18,126,000	8.3
Portland, Me.	15,877,000	10.2
Fort Worth	10,137,000	10.0
Providence	11,490,000	20.0
Spokane	9,708,000	6.5
Spokane	9,708,000	14.2
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6
Albany	2,883,000	10.6

AMERICANS LOOK ON ROYALTY AS A GOOD SHOW AND REGARD KINGS AND QUEENS AS CLOWNS, MARIE COMPLAINS

A QUEEN'S GREETING TO THE AMERICAN PEOPLE

"We Are Always on Public Exhibition and Must Hold Our Tongues Before Ridicule and Attack," She Declares.

This is the first of a series of articles by Queen Marie of Rumania, written exclusively for The Constitution and the North American Newspaper alliance. She gives in a frank and intimate way her philosophy of life, love and work. The series marks the first time that a reigning member of royalty has written under his or her own signature for a newspaper.

A Queen Looks at Life.

By Queen Marie of Rumania.

(Copyright, 1925, in U. S. and Canada by North American Newspaper Alliance. All rights reserved.)

Chapter I—New Queens for Old. You in America are curious and interested in kings and queens, although you have decreed that we are a passing genus, the kind which will soon have no use in the world and which is therefore destined to die out. You are interested in us just as you are interested in artists, travelers, criminals, or even clowns. I like clowns, don't you?

Somewhat I have a sort of brotherly feeling for them. They are always before the public to make others laugh. They are always obliged to be funny, never matter what they are feeling inside. There is a special sort of bravery in that which forces them to go on and on being funny endlessly.

Nor does anyone ask what thoughts are the clown's when, alone at night, he washes off his paint and with it his grimaces, his stupid jokes, and his obligation to be funny just because others want to laugh at others. Nobody wonders if the clown is feeling as funny as he looks!

But to return to kings and queens. Although you have decided we are a species that is to die out (to be replaced by something better no doubt?) you want to know all about us. We interest you tremendously but in a despicable, tolerant sort of way. You want to know what we really are—and even what we think.

What do we think? Well, we certainly think that it is quite natural to be kings and queens. We are not so astonished at ourselves as you are. For generations we have been accustomed to be kings and queens; it is our tradition, so to say our "job," to use one of your own pet expressions, or anyhow to be sons, daughters, brothers, nephews, nieces, grandchildren, uncles and aunts of kings and queens, so there is nothing particularly astonishing in it for us, you see.

American Wit Often Cruel. But I like your American way of wanting to know things, to understand, feel, touch, to get right into things. . . . to see.

Yes, I have sympathy for that spirit of wanting to know, to learn, to hear something new, something that will make you think or laugh. But do not laugh too soon. Laughter is good, but in the right place. Misplaced irony is back on the one who misuses it. But that desire to know endears Americans to me. It is one of the reasons why I am so fond of talking to them. No subject is too small for interest and everything is worth while.

I have no use for the skeptic, for the man who does not want to be told anything for fear it should be found out that he really knows less than he has been pretending to. But you Americans always ask and I for one am quite ready to answer. I shall also do some asking when my turn comes, and as you play fair, I suppose you will be as ready with your answers as I.

Sometimes I admit, you do upset our good old ideas. You even sometimes hurt our feelings. You are critical. You like to scoff because, like most human beings, you do not want to be taken in. You do not mean to be unkind but you like using your special kind of American wit on all things you do not understand in the same way as we do.

You do know how to be funny, that I will allow. I am often inclined to laugh with you even at my own expense. But I do often wish I could answer your wit with my own, because even kings and queens have their own wit, you know, but they keep it to themselves. Till now they have always held their tongues. You can say anything you like about them, about things, unfair things, unkind, critical, even nasty things, and they remain dumb; they do not defend themselves. This is our royal way, but it is rather poor fun for the one who never has his say—and this has often made me boil inwardly in spite of my admirably royal upbringing!

Royalty, Too, Has Feelings. Now, for some unexplained reason, Marie, queen of Rumania, have found favor in your eyes. At least this is what I have been told by Americans themselves. I interest you. You think there is something in me, that I am real and alive and you admit women coming forward and taking their share of public life. So I am not put aside as a mere royalty without any further interest. You

With these first articles of mine written for the American papers I send a very genuine message of friendship and good-will.

I have already often expressed my great liking and admiration for America and its people.

I feel a certain pioneer kinship with them. I sympathize with their sincerity, their vigor, their eagerness to see, learn and do, their determination to get there, to succeed.

The Old and New World can learn much from each other mutually—we must all try to bring as closely together as possible and in this I am ready to help with all my heart and intelligence, therefore in these articles I have spoken so frankly and freely. Exchange of thought is a great blessing and a great richness we can develop on both sides if it is done with love, generosity and understanding. It is my heartfelt wish that they may learn to understand each other better and better through personal intercourse, through international scholarships, through art and literature, through all things good, useful and beautiful, for the joy and benefit of all, and through the written word...

Marie
May 24 1925

"Why Is It More Absurd Being a Queen Than a Millionaire's Wife, a Dressmaker or a Cook?" Her Highness Asks.

people with plans that offer help and paying work for the peasants and heaven knows what not, it done.

I kept thinking how Americans regard a queen as a sort of national luxury, possibly an ornament, certainly not a necessity. Yet the closer you get to the few royalties still functioning, the more convinced are you that the right sort of king or queen may not be such a bad thing after all.

The better I learned to know Queen Marie of Rumania, the more clearly I saw that royalties have their work in the world; have their very tenable viewpoint. A different viewpoint from ours, of course. Yet beneath the surface they are just like us. They live and love and laugh and weep, are spurred by ambitions and crushed by disappointments.

They are yearning for happiness just as we all are. They stumble and fall and pick themselves up, just as we all must. They work and they play. They are "Mommy" and "Mignon" and "Daddy" and "Bud" to each other just like we common folks are. They live as any well-bred, affluent family does, though in a more dramatic setting—in bigger rooms with more impressive furnishings and two footmen to pass the silver dishes at table.

Dramatic setting. Marie of Rumania dramatizes herself. She is a great actress, which means she knows how to express thought and emotion. She is a good queen. She gives her people their money's worth and I like her for it, this Marie of the fair face, the electric personality and the kind, kind heart.

Her Consent Finally Won. Could I persuade her to write herself into our American minds and hearts? Could I?

It was not easy. She was busy. She was a queen with a job and she worked at it. She was beset with requests to do and to go and to give and to write. She had never spoken to Americans through their newspapers. She didn't know whether she should. Whether it would be wise. Didn't Americans love to impale one on the pins of their laughter? Didn't they pounce on bits of one's staff and quote it broadcast without context so that it was given a different twist of meaning? Didn't they?

Well, she would think it over. Regina Maria thought, and I talked, for nearly two months. And here, at last, it is—bits of life as she has seen it through royal eyes; lived it, loved it, learned it.

It is exactly as it came from her pen. Mine only the typewriting and the privilege of presenting to you in admiring friendship, through The Constitution and the North American Newspaper alliance, Queen Marie of Rumania, as a newspaper woman!

CHILDREN'S PICTORIAL CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

HOW TO SOLVE PUZZLE

The words start in the numbered squares and run either across or down. Only one letter is placed in each white square. If the proper words are found, a combination of letters in the white squares will form words. The key to puzzle—the first word—is given in the drawing. Below are keys to the other words.

Running Across.
Word 1. In the picture.
Word 2. To try the flavor of food with the tongue.
Word 3. A small, poisonous snake that Cleopatra used to cause her death.
Running Down.
Word 2. The first name of a famous civil war general to whom General Lee surrendered at Appomattox Courthouse.
Word 3. One who performs on the stage.
Word 4. What a man from Sweden is called.

Aunt Het

"Even if I don't like much, I enjoy telling him about that pain in my side."
(Copyright, 1925, for The Constitution.)

Cheapest Air Trip in World

Bad Oerhausen, Westphalia, Germany.—What is perhaps the cheapest passenger flying service in the world has been established here recently. The aeroplane company working under the management of the reporter is furnishing to the public a three-hour air trip covering about half of Germany at a charge of $20, about five dollars a passenger. A similar trip in America would cost about $100.

Queer Life

THE LOG-CABIN SPIDER

The turret-building or log-cabin spider builds a tower of sticks above the burrow in the ground, just as a log cabin is built of logs by placing sticks an inch or two in length one on top of the other and filling the intervals with earth or moss. The turret is built five-sided and to a height of two or three inches. The spider presses soft earth against the sides of his turret, giving it a round, smooth surface, which he then covers with silk.

In connection with this remarkable autograph facsimile letter from Queen Marie it is interesting to note that even a queen sometimes makes mistakes. Note that the queen misspells the word "sympathize" and that she uses a very unusual spelling for "develop." Also her curious abbreviation for "world"—she uses "wrld."

CLEVEREST QUEEN.

Queen Marie of Rumania, cleverest and most beautiful of living sovereigns. For a royal personage, she is very close to her people; as a factor in world affairs, she is a powerful factor in the councils of statesmen.

keep wondering who I am, what I really am? But that is just what is difficult to make you understand. Our points of view are different. There are so many things which seem quite natural to me which seem astonishing to you, incredible, absurd. Why absurd? Why is it more absurd, more incredible, more astonishing to be a Queen than anything else? (I write it with a capital letter, I hope you observe.) Why is it more absurd, more astonishing being a Queen than being a millionaire's wife with a tremendous house? Why more absurd than being a dressmaker or even a cook? It all depends upon the lady, the dressmaker, the cook and the Queen.

I believe in my usefulness just as does the rich lady, the dressmaker or the cook—and if you want more closely into the subject you would soon see why and you would end by agreeing with me, I am sure.

First of all you ought to be grateful to us were it only for the source of interest we are to you, the ever new but for your witlessness. You enjoy being witty and getting your laugh out of things; so do I. But we royalties have been taught not to laugh at ourselves. If it would hurt their feelings. But then, no one ever pauses to consider if royal people have any feelings! We are supposed to be automatons; there just to amuse the public.

Tomorrow: Burdens of a Crown.

Queen Business Hard Work, Newspaper Woman Finds on Visit to Marie, Rumania

Balkan Ruler Occupied at Tasks From Early Morning Day—Looks on Duties as "Job."

BY ZOE BECKLEY.

(Copyright, 1925, in the United States and Canada by North American Newspaper Alliance. All rights reserved.)

The whole undertaking came up in a curious way. My editor ruffed up his hair one day and asked, "Can't you think of somebody in Europe who'd be good copy?"

"Well," said I, having been taught to offer some suggestion, however wild, when an editor demands one, "there's Queen Marie. She's beautiful and brilliant and the mother-in-law of the Balkans and—"

"Look here," the editor interrupted, "got worse than ever. Just exactly who is Queen Marie? I know she's beautiful and brilliant and—"

"Queen of Rumania—er—does she speak English?"

"She is English."

"Oh, of course—er—"

"English and Russian. Her father was Queen Victoria's second son Alfred, Duke of Edinburgh. Her mother the Grand Duchess Marie, only daughter of Emperor Alexander, of Russia, who was blown to pieces by a military bomb. Of course she speaks English and German and French and Russian and—and everything," I finished confidently.

The editor pondered.

"She writes, too," I offered.

"Go get her," said he, and started for the golf links.

Miss Zoe Beckley.

I felt dazed. I knew what he intended to do, and I knew I couldn't do it. Royal persons do not write just because you ask them to. Royalty does nobody's bidding, not even a newspaper editor's. I felt very queer indeed.

When I found myself on the Manhattan subway bound, I felt even queer. I had a panic. What wild goose chase was I embarked on anyhow? What chance had I of winning the confidence of Queen Marie of Rumania? Of persuading her to write for me? Here I was, spending someone else's money with nothing but a shooting of imagination and a shred of hope to go upon. Crazy.

Arrived at Bucharest, I felt better. The hotel was unexpectedly civilized, with a brass bed, red wall paper and a telephone. The peasants wore sheepskin mantles and tall fur hats. The intelligentsia, in Paris clothes, were chic and sophisticated. The city has an air half oriental and half European. The people too. Eager and curious but not as you might say, "impressed." I wasn't feeling sentimental about it or ready to be awed. Your average American is curious about queens and kings but doesn't take them too seriously. To an old-hand newspaper person a queen is "copy," rather than royal by divine right.

I hoped I would not slip up on the palace floor, or greet her majesty too breathlessly, or otherwise deport myself offensively. I copied her majesty to be tolerant and that I would "get a story." And that is all I hoped.

"Get" Queen Marie at Once.

There are some persons you "get" the moment you set eyes upon them. It is like a flash-back of memory from some former life. It is so usually that the person belongs to a distinct type—the type you like and which you recognize instantly.

Here, I knew, was more than a queen. A personality. A worker. A user of things. A queen with a job, a queen who was useful and who had learned life by not only seeing the sorrows and disappointments of others but by knowing many, many of her own.

Something in her look, her voice, her simple black frock with its white collar and camellia pinned at the shoulder, her wise and wide blue eyes, her flashing smile and energetic movement said "Stories." There are stories in her face—a beautiful face—in her serious manner, her vibrant body with its maternal lines.

There are stories because there is character.

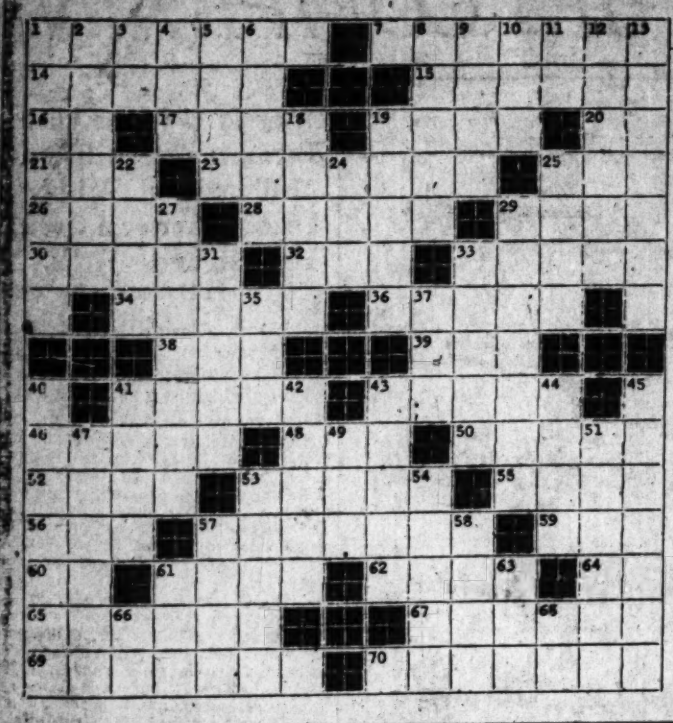

A firm hand reached out to me, and at the same time I was friends with Queen Marie.

She was hurrying to consult with doctors over the king's indisposition—this was February. She is always hurrying upon some mission, some business. She came back, and we talked for two straight hours. We talked of everything from rose gardens to international debts. Yes, Madame. I stridles to "Mrs. Robinson's" book. When I left Cotroceni palace that day I felt like a huge sponge heavy and dripping with what it had soaked up. Yet I was no nearer the question of her majesty writing the stories I saw in her face than when I left New York. I began to have misgivings (featuring the "Globe" a word).

Marie is Hard Worker.

But Queen Marie was not just pretending to be busy. She works all day and every day, rising at seven and resting not at all until her program of conferences, appointments with ministers, talks with educators, physicians

Today's Cross-Word Puzzle

Horizontal.

1. Begged.
7. Nobleman.
14. Tall.
15. The East.
16. One.
17. So be it.
19. Pace.
20. Article (Fr.).
21. Novel.
22. Ice Needle (pl.).
23. Vehicle.
26. Car (Eng.).
28. Bulls (Sp.).
29. Mendi.
30. A water willow.
32. Something aside.
33. Gaelic God.
34. Commerce.
36. Gleam.
38. Frozen water.
39. Unit of energy.
41. Rolls slowly.
43. Rage.
46. Measure of length.
48. Color.
50. To corrode.
52. Spur.
53. Store.
55. Twined.
56. Close to the ground.
57. Easy gallop (pl.).
59. Finish.
60. Half of the Bible (ab.).
61. Settled.
62. The lotus.
63. Engineering degree (ab.).
65. Stream of water (pl.).
67. One who flies high.
69. A card game (pl.).
70. To press down.

Vertical.

1. Ghost.
2. Steamship (pl.).
3. For instance (ab.).
4. Exclamation.
5. Prefix, half.
6. Upright.
8. A hurdy-gurdy (pl.).
9. God of war (Greek).
10. Pluck.
11. Prefix, out of.

12. Smear with lard.
13. Everlasting.
18. Mythological heroine.
19. Small wild plum (pl.).
22. Remain.
24. To weep.
25. A prison.
27. Deserved.
28. Peril.
31. One who races.
33. A funeral song.
35. It falls at night.
37. A fowl.
40. To park.
41. To park.
42. A position.
43. Messenger of God.
44. Thick cord.
45. Peddler (pl.).
47. Pertaining to love.
49. Insect.
51. Stupid person (pl.).
53. To lift.
54. Not even.
57. Wagon.
58. Cease.
61. Through.
63. Organ of sense.
68. Eastern state (ab.).
69. Concerning.

Across 1. Begged. 2. Steamship (pl.). 3. For instance (ab.). 4. Exclamation. 5. Prefix, half. 6. Upright. 8. A hurdy-gurdy (pl.). 9. God of war (Greek). 10. Pluck. 11. Prefix, out of. 12. Smear with lard. 13. Everlasting. 18. Mythological heroine. 19. Small wild plum (pl.). 22. Remain. 24. To weep. 25. A prison. 27. Deserved. 28. Peril. 31. One who races. 33. A funeral song. 35. It falls at night. 37. A fowl. 40. To park. 41. To park. 42. A position. 43. Messenger of God. 44. Thick cord. 45. Peddler (pl.). 47. Pertaining to love. 49. Insect. 51. Stupid person (pl.). 53. To lift. 54. Not even. 57. Wagon. 58. Cease. 61. Through. 63. Organ of sense. 68. Eastern state (ab.). 69. Concerning.

The Love Cycle

BY MILDRED BARBOUR

THE LAST CHANCE.

Afterward, Mansfield reproached himself for not investigating Jane's sudden departure from his office and from town. It would have been the part of friendship, knowing her scant finances and her unfortunate matrimonial situation.

But his own trouble was so black at the end of the last day Jane worked for him, that personal suffering overwhelmed every other consideration.

After Jane had left the office that afternoon, Davidson arrived, natty, smiling, assured, reeking of lotions from the barber shop.

He seated himself complacently, took out his ostentatious case and lighted a cigarette.

"Well, here I am," he suggested, when Mansfield, still silent, asked, "How about that little matter between us? I hope you've seen the light and everything is ready for me. Not one cent less, remember."

"Davidson, I can't do it," Mansfield squared his shoulders. "I tried to gather together the amount you asked. But it's impossible. I can't give it to you. You'll have to come down in your price, that's all."

Dull red spread Davidson's sallow face. The cigarette broke between his fingers and rolled to the floor. He leaned forward in his chair. "Can't do it, eh? Are you crazy? Didn't I tell you this was your last chance?"

"I'll have to," he said briefly. "Now, I must go. They're waiting for me at my office at the factory. And by the way, if you want to see me again, come to the factory. After next week, this charity drive thing will be ended and there'll be no more office here."

"Oh, you'll see me and hear from me," the man said unpleasantly. "He sprang jauntily from his chair, pulled down his light waistcoat and adjusted his cuffs. He glanced around the office with his wise, appraising air."

"Sent your little stenographer early. I see. Going to take her with you when you close this place?"

"Vain stood out suddenly on Mansfield's temples.

"Mrs. Hayes will accept a position in my office—yes."

"Oh, so she's another married woman, eh? Well, watch out for her husband," Davidson remarked with an insulting laugh. "Better not get caught a second time. It's expensive."

"Why even now, Dora's at one of your wife's teas," Davidson squirmed impatiently in his chair. "She's taken quite a fancy to Dora, your wife has. Dora can be sweet when she wants to be. I guess you know that, eh, Mansfield?" he winked broadly.

"I'll be nice for you to get together, after I've slipped the new to Dora—nice easy little confab where Dora lets the cat out of the bag."

Mansfield made a weary gesture. "You know you're lying. I was innocently caught in a diabolical net of your own spreading."

"Well, prove it to the world, if you can," the other jeered. "And you know you can't, or you wouldn't have taken quite a fancy to these years. Come across, Mansfield, you know you can't risk exposure."

Mansfield rose and pushed back his desk chair.

"I'll have to," he said briefly. "Now, I must go. They're waiting for me at my office at the factory. And by the way, if you want to see me again, come to the factory. After next week, this charity drive thing will be ended and there'll be no more office here."

"Oh, you'll see me and hear from me," the man said unpleasantly. "He sprang jauntily from his chair, pulled down his light waistcoat and adjusted his cuffs. He glanced around the office with his wise, appraising air."

"Sent your little stenographer early. I see. Going to take her with you when you close this place?"

"Vain stood out suddenly on Mansfield's temples.

"Mrs. Hayes will accept a position in my office—yes."

"Oh, so she's another married woman, eh? Well, watch out for her husband," Davidson remarked with an insulting laugh. "Better not get caught a second time. It's expensive."

"I'll be nice for you to get together, after I've slipped the new to Dora—nice easy little confab where Dora lets the cat out of the bag."

Mansfield made a weary gesture. "You know you're lying. I was innocently caught in a diabolical net of your own spreading."

Bevy of Atlanta Bathing Beauties "Try Out Water" As Municipal Swimming Pools Opened Saturday

Photograph by Kenneth Rogers, Constitution Staff Photographer.

The bevy of Bathing Beauties above are shown trying out the water at Piedmont park when the announcement came that the swimming pool was open. The pretty miss "riding the horse" (upper left) is Miss Jewell Lane, while her two companions are Miss Hazel Dukehart (left) and Miss Sarah Bosworth. The winsome beauties in the boat are, left to right: Misses Alice Brown, Grace Austin, Jewell Lane, Hazel Dukehart, and Sarah Bosworth. In the lower picture the same quintette of mermaids are seen jumping from the board walk into the pool.

Splash, splash, splash, there they go, the diving girls—and the diving boys, too—but nobody's noticing them—the water's hot, the water's fine and the 1936 swimming pool season is under way. The first divers splashed into the water 10 seconds after the pools in five city parks opened Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and from then on the splashing will continue until the chill blasts of fall drive the swimmers to cover.

This year the sliding boards are slippery as ever, the water spritzers are in their usual posing humor, the water hoses are bobbing in the pools and the "hot daves" are simmering on the banks, so all signs point to a wonderful season, according to L. L. Wallis, general manager of parks.

One-Piece Suits Banned.

No unusual restrictions will be in force at the pools this season, Mr. Wallis declared. One-piece bathing suits without skirts, white and silk suits will be barred, but otherwise the same liberal rules of last year will prevail.

Improvements have been made in all the parks this season. Oakland City bathing house has been reconstructed, the two high runways from the bath house to the pool have been removed and the entire building repainted. At Piedmont park the locker rooms have been rebuilt while at Grant park improvements have been made in the shower baths. All the bath houses have been repainted and renovated.

Swimming pools are located in Piedmont park, Grant park, Oakland City park, Madox park and Moxley park for white people and in Washington park for negroes.

Manager Wallis announced the opening and closing hours as follows: Week days, 5:30 until 10:30 a. m., and 2:30 to 9 o'clock p. m.; Sundays, 5:30 to 8:30 a. m. and from 2:30 to sundown in the afternoon.

Records Expected.

Last year all previous attendance records in the swimming pools were broken and with the same weather conditions prevailing new records are expected to be made this year.

Manager Wallis has arranged a series of band concerts for the pools which will include all the parks during the summer. The schedule will be arranged so that all the parks will get an equal number of band concerts.

Special events will be held from time to time at the pools, these to be announced later.

Large crowds availed themselves of the opportunity to take the first swim of the new season Saturday. Nearly all the pools were filled to the capacity of the bath houses Saturday.

English Bishop Delivers Defense Of Birth Control

Brighton, Eng., May 31.—The Bishop of Birmingham, E. W. Barnes, delivered a defense of birth control in a sermon here Sunday at the parish church.

"Many thinkers in recent years have been led to regard the crowded conditions of Europe as the main underlying cause of the great war," said the bishop.

"You feel that a like catastrophe is possible unless that altruism which limits population increase can be made to prevail. By medicine and hygiene, nature's destructive forces have been conquered, but the victory will be disastrous to human welfare unless the desire for many children, which is natural and until recently laudable, is held in check."

Bishop Barnes urged an educational program to prevent reckless child bearing and overcrowding the slums. He advocated interpretation of the scriptures in the light of modern conditions.

Dr. T. Colvin Glasgow, addressing a conference of Roman Catholic young men's societies in New Castle, warned that Catholic votes would defeat the socialists should their party advocate birth control. He accounted for the growing belief in birth control as due to moral laxity of the present day, in which, he said, young men are too much interested in picking winners in horse races and young women "too interested in such a degree that they dilate their pupils, pencil their eyebrows or display silk stockings."

FIRST SHIP CAPTURED BY RUM PATROL

New York, May 31.—The two-masted auxiliary schooner William A. Morse was captured by two coast guard patrol boats yesterday afternoon, fifteen miles off Atlantic City. The vessel was towed to this port with nine members of the crew under guard on board. Violating the navigation laws is charged, but members of the coast guard refused to specify the infractions alleged.

The Morse is the first vessel captured by the coast guard since the fire week ago.

The Constitution's Patterns

A Pleasing Frock for "Morning" Wear.

4726. In printed voile or figured percale this model will be neat and attractive. The lines are comfortable and becoming. This is a good style for mature figures.

The pattern is cut in 7 sizes: 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48 inches bust measure. A 38-inch size requires 4 1/2 yards of 36-inch material. The width at the foot is 2 yards with plaits extended.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c in silver or stamps.

A Unique Apron Model.

5080. Cretonne and unbleached muslin are here combined. Satene and chintz or percale and cambric are also good in combination for this pleasing style.

The pattern is cut in one size: Medium. To make as illustrated will require 1 5/8 yards of 32-inch figured material and 1 5/8 yards of plain material 32 or 36 inches wide. If made of one material 3 1/4 yards will be required. To make without the facing required 1 5/8 yards.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c in silver or stamps.

Statement.

In ordering patterns write name and address plainly on a sheet of paper. Order by number and enclose price in silver or stamps. Do not mail letter to The Constitution building in Atlanta, but address as follows: Fashion Department, The Constitution, 1188-80 Fulton Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Georgia Women To Take Active Part at West Baden

BESSIE S. STAFFORD, Staff Correspondent.

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 31.—(Special.)—That the Georgia delegation en route to the mid-biennial council of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, which opens Monday evening in West Baden, Ind., will be prominent and leading factors in the G. F. W. C. program is made evident in their forenoon discussions and plans while speeding towards the convention point.

These women have been invited to take part in the "Open forum," which involves club programs and problems, legislation, club institutes, general federation problems, headquarters, state organization, bulletins and magazines, leadership, federated spirit, club music, state problems, politics, publicity, club property and poverty, business methods, the rural woman, the woman in the smaller town, and club membership.

The delegation, including Mrs. A. P. Brantley, of Blackbar, state president; Mrs. J. N. Hays, of Monticello, recording secretary in the G. F. W. C.; Mrs. Samuel M. Imman, chairman of fine arts in the G. F. W. C.; Mrs.

H. G. Hastings, president of the Fifth district; Mrs. Hamilton Douglas, all of Atlanta, and Mrs. Gordon Sharon, Bainbridge, state delegate, Mrs. Robert K. Rambo, of Atlanta, official hostess for Georgia, were presented, after entraining, by the state director in the G. F. W. C., Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, of Atlanta, badges combining hand painted Cherokee roses on green satin ribbons, the official flower and colors of the state federation. These badges were secured by Mrs. Arthur Hazard, of Atlanta, chairman of transportation, and were mailed by Mrs. Brantley to the delegates.

The Georgia delegation will be quartered on the same floor of the hotel with headquarters in these rooms. Mrs. Brantley will be speaker for Georgia, and she will give a comprehensive review of the state activities. The Georgia delegation is anticipating the council as being one of pleasure and inspiration.

The Georgia delegation will be quartered on the same floor of the hotel with headquarters in these rooms. Mrs. Brantley will be speaker for Georgia, and she will give a comprehensive review of the state activities. The Georgia delegation is anticipating the council as being one of pleasure and inspiration.

The Georgia delegation will be quartered on the same floor of the hotel with headquarters in these rooms. Mrs. Brantley will be speaker for Georgia, and she will give a comprehensive review of the state activities. The Georgia delegation is anticipating the council as being one of pleasure and inspiration.

PERSIA MAY ASK AID IN REPELLING SOVIETS

Geneva, May 31.—(By the Associated Press.)—Alleged bolshevik military aggressions on the Persian frontier are deemed so serious by Persia that the Persian representatives to the League of Nations announced tonight they might have to appeal to the council of the league on the ground that the situation constituted a menace to international peace.

Prince Arfa Ed Dowleh, former head of the Persian delegation to the league assembly but now in Geneva to attend the arms traffic conference, informed the American and other delegations that Persia was suffering from a series of incursions by soviet troops in violation of the treaty signed between Persia and the Russian Soviet government in 1921.

The gravest charge is that the Russians incited 3,000 Nomads and Tartars in Turkistan to attack Bedouin Persia, in an effort to capture the holy city of Mecca.

FRENCH PAPERS SHOW INTEREST IN MRS. WILSON

Paris, May 31.—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson easily persuaded correspondents not to greet her for interviews upon her arrival at Cherbourg, but French newspapers regard her presence in France with great interest, recalling at length her visit here with President Wilson.

Miss Belle Baruch, daughter of Bernard M. Baruch, of New York, brought Mrs. Wilson to Paris by automobile for a short stay before going to the Pyrenees and perhaps on a tour of Spain.

AMERICAN TOURISTS INVADE EUROPE

Southampton, Eng., May 31.—The American summer invasion of Europe has begun.

Eleven trans-Atlantic liners dumped more than 6,000 tourists into Southampton yesterday on their way to London and the continent to file past the historic relics of the old world and absorb some of the atmosphere and local color within the next few weeks for the benefit of the stay-at-homes next winter.

Twenty special trains and boats were called into service to carry them on their way.

Mrs. Murphy Entertains.

Mrs. John E. Murphy entertained at an informal luncheon on Saturday at 1 o'clock at her home on Peachtree street, in honor of her son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Conkey Whitehead, who will leave Atlanta on Tuesday, June 2, and will sail from New York on June 13, on the steamer Majestic for Europe. Mr. and Mrs. Whitehead will go to Paris and will travel over the continent.

The handsomely appointed luncheon table was overlaid with an exquisite lace cloth, and gracing the center was an arrangement of garden flowers. Invited to meet the honor guests were a group of close friends.

Mrs. Lott Warren, Jr., has returned from Boston, where she attended the national convention of the Junior League, and was the guest of Mrs. William Jay McKenna, at her home on Bay State road. She spent two weeks in New York en route to Atlanta.

Dr. E. G. Ballenger will return this week from New York, where he spent a week. He also attended the American Medical convention in Atlantic City.

Mrs. Stacy Earnest Hill has returned from a visit to New York. She stopped in Washington, D. C., en route to Atlanta, where she was the guest of Mrs. Clarke Mumford. She spent several days in Charlottesville, Va., as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cook, who formerly resided in this city.

BAILEY, BANKS & BIDDLE CO.
Jewelers Silversmiths Stationers
Established 1831
PHILADELPHIA

PEARL NECKLACES DIAMONDS

and other Jewels

having the "Hall Mark" of this Establishment are classed as "Superlative" by experts in any part of the world.

THE DIAMOND BOOK—mailed upon request

Bayley Text and Colonial Script—the new and accepted Engraving for Wedding Invitations and Announcements. Samples upon request.

$40,000 LUMBER FIRE AT CULLODEN

Cullooden, Ga., May 31.—Fire early this morning destroyed the big planing mill and lumber yard of Venus Means, causing a loss estimated at $20,000 on machinery and $20,000 on the stock of lumber.

In the ruins several hours after the fire had been out the body of Gen. Danieli, 75-year-old negro watchman, was found in what was the boiler room of the plant.

How the fire originated is not known. It was first discovered at 1:30 o'clock and in a few minutes the whole plant was on fire. There was 1,000,000 feet of lumber stacked in the yard beside the mill, all of which was destroyed.

In this plant a year ago there was an explosion of a steam pipe, which scalded six persons, four negroes losing their lives at that time. The mill had been destroyed by fire on other occasions. There was only $5,000 insurance on the plant and lumber.

The fire also destroyed the old Macon and Birmingham railway depot and five freight cars owned by the V&G railroad.

MORON NOW BELIEVED TO HAVE SLAIN GIRL

New York, May 31.—The brutal and thus far unsolved murder of Florence Kane in Brooklyn may lead to an extensive check-up on degenerates throughout greater New York. Such a survey by the police has been demanded by the girl's neighbors and other citizens are also urging it because of the long series of attacks upon girls in Manhattan and its suburbs during the past few months.

Since the beaten and nearly nude body of Florence Kane was found in a vacant lot near her home, dead from strangulation, four other girls have reported attempted attacks in the same district.

Two of the young women had before a burly negro Saturday night and the police believe that a negro degenerate probably killed Miss Kane. They are searching for such a man.

A white man was taken into custody Sunday on the complaint that he "followed" two women. Later he was released. He was able to prove an alibi on the night of the Kane murder.

The Brooklyn police, further spurred by the fact Miss Kane was a sister of Detective Kane, have detailed a squad of expert sleuths to the case.

Authorities believe that if there theory that a degenerate murdered Miss Kane is correct, the moron is likely to appear again. Such a murderer finds a thrill, they say, in visiting the scene of his depravity.

The police are now endeavoring to get a just for outrage, the police pointed out. It was with these facts in mind that neighbors of the Kane family demanded vigorously that the district be cleared of all morons.

Funeral services for Miss Kane were held at 10 o'clock Sunday morning.

FRENCH CHIEF DEFENDS PEACE PACT ATTITUDE

Strasbourg, May 31.—(By the Associated Press.)—President Doumergue, on his first official visit anywhere in France since he entered the Elysee Palace as president, addressed the citizens of Strasbourg today, warning them of the present negotiations for a security pact with Germany.

As long as France has not obtained serious guarantees for her future security," he said, "we cannot be taxed with imperialism if we maintained a prudent attitude toward any proposed plan."

Plan Judging Contest.

Clemson College, S. C., May 31.—The third vocational agricultural judging contest will be held at Clemson college June 8 and 9. It is announced. Many entries have already been received.

Washington, associate professor of education who is chairman of the judging contest. The contests will center around first crops, including the selection of better seed corn and corn, horticulture and livestock.

Canadian Pacific Ships

ST. LAWRENCE ROUTE TO EUROPE

to EUROPE

Take the Empress of Scotland, Empress of France, or a Monclaire (one cabin liner from Montreal or Quebec).

Only 4 days open sea following the short St. Lawrence route from Old French Canada. For further information see local agents or write:

C. G. Chaboussier, Gen. Agt. Pac. Div., Canadian Pacific Railway, 45 St. Paul St., Montreal, Quebec.

"A POPULATION of 500,000 by 1930" is Atlanta's Slogan. Let's all pull together for a Greater Atlanta.

THE CONSTITUTION'S WEEKLY BUSINESS REVIEW

THERE is hardly a need or want that cannot be filled in Atlanta's stores or factories.

Building Materials

COMMON BRICK. — — — FACE BRICK

CEMENT — LIME

SCIPLE SONS

Walnut 4020 "ASK THE CONTRACTOR" Established 1892

BARRETT-WATSON CO.

MILL SUPPLIES

35 S. FORSYTH ST. MAIn 1283-1284

OLDEST TENT & AWNING CO. SOUTH

Tents Made to Order Quickly. Also Tents RENTED or Repaired. In every order we combine Quality Service, Courtesy and Economy. However, WE WANT TO STRESS PROMPTNESS.

Write, phone or wire

M. D. SMITH TENT AND AWNING CO.

136 1/2 Marietta Street Phone IVy 7122

TILSON & McKINNEY

Wm. J. Tilson Chas. D. McKinney

GEORGIA MORTGAGES

Our Motto: "A Georgia Mortgage is as secure as Stone Mountain."

839 Hurt Building WALnut 5590

Plumbing Supplies

Wholesale and Retail

PICKERT PLUMBING SUPPLY CO.

117-119 Central Ave. Phone M. 0550

DEMAND AND USE SUPERIOR BRAND WIENERS AND SAUSAGE

The Most Sanitary and Modern Sausage Manufacturing Plant in Dixie Land

ATLANTA SAUSAGE CO.

26 Howell Mill Road Phone HElock 6355

"VAN DORN" Electric Drills

More Power Per Pound and More Power Per Dollar

Every "Van Dorn" drill will stand heavy duty or light duty; will drive a drill through toughest steel or softest wood; will drill one hole or a million; will work one hour or twenty-four on one shift; and doesn't need a rest from getting hot or any other cause.

If you need an electric drill, see the "VAN DORN" before you buy and we know what you'll purchase.

THE WALRAVEN CO.

30-38 W. Alabama St. MACHINERY AND MILL SUPPLIES Phone MAIn 0716-0717-0718

Satisfactory

Awnings and Tents

The Atlanta Manufacturing Company

231 1/2 Stewart Avenue, Atlanta, Ga.

— PHONE WEST 0196 —

Demand the C. C. C. Brand

CAMP CYLINDER GRINDING CO.

"SPECIALISTS IN CYLINDER GRINDING"

Steel Starter Rings Put on Quality Certain Prices Right

WALTON ST. IVy 3005

Free Brake Inspection Service

Brake Service Shop

Brake Specialists on all Cars

52 Houston St. WAL 5554

Capital Plumbing & Heating Co.

Contracting and Repairing

22 W. Hunter St. MAIn 4134

WELDING ENGINEERS

WELDERS—MACHINISTS—RADIATORS

Electric & Gas Welding Machines & Supplies

BIRD-POTTS CO., Inc.

WELDING BUILDING 207 1/2 Marietta St. Atlanta, Ga.

W. J. MILAM

Radiators Repaired—Automobile Bodies and Fenders Made New.

All Kinds of Sheet Metal Work Done. All Metal Work on Automobiles Made New and Repaired.

AUTOMOBILE PAINTING

122 Auburn Ave. WALnut 3624

DRIVEWAYS

Re surfaced with a new load bearing top—

Beautiful in appearance and at a saving in cost.

Phone HE. 1668 for Details

THE DRIVEWAY CO., INC.

26 E. NORTH AVE.

WAUSEKA LITHIA WATER

Scientifically Pure—Light

Will attract, absorb and digest poisons. Burns directly on stomach, breaks up and kills, and will cause them to be expelled.

PURA WATER CO. 21 Piedmont Ave.

Fire Escapes, Stairways, Grates, Window Guards, etc.

Welding & Brazing

Electric Welding Co.

52 Houston St. IVy 5072

WEYMAN & CONNORS

MORTGAGES — INSURANCE — RENTS

8th Floor Grant Building Phone WAL 2162—Founded 1890

REEVES

Commercial PHOTOGRAPHS

MAIn 0320 WHITEHALL ST

You Can Clean Up Everything You Are Supposed to Be Doing by Using the Ediphone

Ediphone

76 Marietta St. WAL 2600

LYNCH & JOHNSON

PLUMBING—HEATING—SHEET IRON WORK—BOILERMAKERS—ELECTRIC ARC WELDING

SPECIAL TANKS AND FIRE ESCAPES

Office and Showroom Warehouse and Shop

53 E. Hunter St.—HE. 4643 Rear 70 Ponce de Leon Place

Edw. Richardson, C. P. A. W. G. Jackson, C. P. A. L. L. Davis, C. P. A.

Richardson, Jackson & Davis

Successors to

Alonzo Richardson & Company

Certified Public Accountants Atlanta, Ga.

1430-1435 Atlanta Trust Co. Bldg.

Evolution Theory and Coal Applied by Atlanta Dealer

"Evolution—as applied to coal. We do not ask you to take what we say by faith in us or in the coal—but apply your scientific methods to it—prove it on the fire—

"But we do not claim it will make as hot a fire as evolution will make when it strikes the grates in the bottomless pit."

This is the unique viewpoint of a leading coal dealer, the W. D. Hardaway Coal company, in which the latest diversion of the reading public is switched to coal—bearing out in a measure the assertions of interested persons that evolution does touch most all phases of existence.

Be that as it may, what Mr. Hardaway, head of the coal company bearing his name, wishes to impress most pointedly is that his firm now has a limited amount of the famous "Tobacco Jen" an hand and is urging his customers to take advantage of this chance to get this quality of coal while it lasts.

It has not been possible to get this coal at will, it is pointed out. Its grade and demand in all sections has resulted in a distribution of the output which has had the effect of limiting the supply in most all sections.

The output of the mine is small—and combined with the unusual demand—makes it well-nigh impossible to provide all patrons with all the coal of this particularly superior quality.

At present the Hardaway company is taking all this grade of coal it can obtain, basing this action on the increased demand for the product and the assurance that patrons will take advantage of the opportunity to obtain a supply. Persons who have not yet placed their orders should do so at the earliest moment, officials of the firm point out.

To paraphrase an old saying, a ton of coal in the bin is worth many more tons at the mine or in transit. It's having what one wishes in this day and time that counts.

Tobacco Jen is in a class all to itself. A user needs no explanation of its numerous fine qualities. It is no equal, Hardaway officials point out, as a product for stoves, grates and heaters. It is not recommended for furnace use. Couple these facts with the value of economy and satisfaction and you have the finest product of its kind that money can buy, it is pointed out.

June deliveries now can be obtained for $7 per ton.

The Jellico Coal Co., Inc.

10 Edgewood Ave.

Phone WALnut 1585.

"Coal of Uniform Quality"

She Fire Alarm Gong

OUR policies are iron-bound contracts backed by the most prominent insurance companies in the world. When you insure with us you are guaranteed in the event of fire, etc.

"Think of the Future"

EPSTEIN & ROBERTS

624-6-8 Hurt Bldg. WAL 4202

Contractors' Equipment, Road Building Machinery, "Caterpillar" Tractors.

YANCEY BROTHERS

550-556 Whitehall St. MAIn 3965

For Residences and Public Buildings

DUNHAM HEATING SERVICE

404 FORTY-SEVENTH BLDG. ATLANTA, GA.

W. L. ANDREWS, Mgr.

Phone MAIn 2221

STEIN Printing Co.

39 So. Forsyth St.

Railroad, State and Commercial Printers

We are saving the State one half of their printing bill. Call us up and let us do the same for you.

Dixie Lumber Co.

Lumber—Mill Work Service

MA. 2824 101 Wells St.

C. W. RUSSELL & SON

TIN and SHEET METAL WORKERS—ROOFING, GUTTERS and REPAIRS

19 Peters St. Phone MAIn 1400

NATIONAL WINDOW & HOUSECLEANING CO.

Established 1905 Estimates Carefully Given General House Cleaning, Glass, Window Service Monthly Rates

11 Whitehall St. MA. 1724

High-Class Renovating

We build walls, tile and set floors

Gate City Mattress Co.

177 1/2 E. Peachtree St. N. E. 177 1/2

404 Decatur St.

Dixie Lumber Firm Shows 200 Per Cent Business Jump

An increase of approximately 200 per cent in business for the first four months of this year as compared to the same period in 1924, has necessitated additions to the Dixie Lumber company and resulted in additions to its personnel in the person of E. D. Williamson, prominent Georgia lumber and planning mill official, who recently assumed charge of the company's big mill here.

E. G. Decker, who started the Dixie Lumber company more than three years ago, will not be able to give more of his time to the buying and estimating phase of the work, thereby aiding C. E. Simmons, who heretofore has been handling both the estimating and selling and who has, with the marked increase in the company's business, been greatly overtaxed.

Mr. Williamson comes to the firm with an experience which few lumbermen in the south can boast. Formerly a member of the firm of E. G. Williamson & Sons, he knows practically every phase of lumber industry, from tree to mills, to construction. He is particularly fitted for his work with the widely-known Dixie Lumber firm because of his advantage of having been brought up in the mill business and among persons whose needs he knows fully.

Both Mr. Decker and Mr. Simmons are men of exceptional experience in their lives, having been engaged in lumber and planning mill business for many years, and the good fortune to have made countless friends through years and years of courteous and efficient service, offering at all times superior quality materials and backing their product with their own reputation.

In Atlanta, particularly, the growth of the firm has been little less than remarkable, having jumped in percentage of business to a figure which is highest evidence of the rapid expansion of the firm and the tremendous growth in demand for the Dixie Lumber company products. With the new additions to the huge plant, the increased personnel—plus the usual interest in their customers' wishes for building materials, an even greater increase in business is anticipated with the approaching summer and fall seasons, it is pointed out.

At the present time the Dixie firm is supplying materials for more than two-score homes now under construction in various sections of the city, and are shipping materials to many nearby sections. Buildings where Dixie materials are now being used include the iron foundry for R. A. Higgins, in Oakland City, and many residences in Egan Park, West End and in the section adjacent the federal prison.

Farquhar Slab Burner BOILERS AND ENGINES

"The only boiler made that will steam on green, stabs in rainy weather in the winter time."

Farquhar Saw Mill Machinery REPAIRS AND PARTS

Write us for information and prices on Farm, Lumber and Lumber Warehouses. We are featuring a new line that for price and quality has no equal.

Woodruff Machinery Mfg. Co.

82-84 S. FORSYTH ST. ATLANTA

Awnings for Home and Business

Standard Tent & Awning Co.

"Standard Awnings Tailored to Fit"

232 Edgewood Ave., Atlanta, Ga. IVy 7295

Dowman & Wilkins Co.

Service Printers

107 LUCKIE ST. IVy 0791-0792

ROOFS

Applied and Repaired—Tar and Gravel, Built Up Asphalt and Roll Roofing—Satisfaction Guaranteed.

ACREE ROOFING COMPANY

14 Stewart Ave. J. O. Acree WEst 2712

HARVEY WEATHERLY

Announces That He Is Now Located At

Spring and Cain Streets

Handling Reed Products

Bronze Tablets, Bronze Signs Metal Work for Banks

Cincinnati Mfg. Co.

Joseph Gardner Co.

297 Peachtree St. IVy 0415

COMMERCIAL PHOTOGRAPHY

Done Anywhere Day or Night

FRANCIS E. PRICE

Constitution Bldg., MAIn 4181

Wholesale Coal

INQUIRIES SOLICITED QUALITY SERVICE

RANDALL FUEL CO.

Incorporated Atlanta, Ga.

RUBBER STAMPS

Dixie Seal & Stamp Co.

33 POPLAR ST.

D. I. MacINTYRE, JR. JOHN I. SCOTT J. O. KNIGHT J. O. KING

MacIntyre, Scott, Knight & Co.

GENERAL INSURANCE

505-510 Atlanta Trust Co. Bldg.

Phone: WAL 5075-5076. Atlanta, Ga.

Capital Hide & Metal Co.

Always in the market for Skins, Hides, Tallow, Iron, Steel Scrap and Metal.

333 Peters St. WEst 0797

Be A Busy Bee and Attend

Hafley's Big Warehouse Sale of Gas Ranges & Water Heaters, GAS RANGES, up to $26.85

FANCY HEATERS, $16.75

FRANK HAFLEY

109 Marietta Street

RAYMOND C. SNOW & COMPANY

ARCHITECTS

812 BONA ALLEN BLDG.

JOS. S. SHAW

Constructing Engineer

Georgia Savings Bank Bldg.

Designs—Finishes—Constructs BETTER BUILDINGS

Phone WALnut 2832

ELECTRICAL MACHINERY

Motors and generators: new and used; rebuilding and rewinding of electrical machinery.

Electric fans, Toasters, etc., Repaired.

BRYAN ELECTRIC CO.

33 Edgewood Ave. Atlanta, Ga. WALnut 1017

GOOD LUMBER

LUMBER

That Endures

Whether your job be one of a massive building or for some repair work, we have the lumber that will fit your needs completely, and the prices are right.

Consult us before placing your order.

MILLER LUMBER CO.

Dependable Service

DeKALB SUPPLY COMPANY

Lumber and Building Materials

Brick, Lime, Cement and Roofing

PROMPT SERVICE

Phone DEarborn 1616 Decatur, Ga.

Georgia Farms For Sale

Call or write for Catalog of farms for sale in 30 different counties, ranging in size from 50 acres to 3,000 acres.

We Solicit Applications for Loans on Georgia Farms and Atlanta Real Estate. Young lawyers throughout the state, wishing a farm loan connection, invited to write us. We have nearly fifteen millions in farm loans on our books.

THE SOUTHERN MORTGAGE CO.

Established 1870 Capital $300,000

J. T. Holliman, President W. L. Kemp, Vice-Pres. J. W. Andrews, Secretary

10 Auburn Ave. Atlanta, Ga.

NOKOI

Automatic Oil Heating for Homes

AUTOMATIC HEATING, INC.

CONSTITUTION'S WEEKLY BUSINESS REVIEW

Supreme in the Southern Field

In the manufacture of Awnings, Tents and Canvas specialties. Let us figure on the best and latest designs at a savings in price of 10% to 20%.

Atlanta Tent & Awning Co.

WITH QUALITY—SERVICE BEYOND THE CONTRACT
PHONE EAST POINT 1483
ATLANTA, GA.

Lumber—Cement—Roofing

All Kinds Building Material

Carolina Portland Cement Co.

Moore and Decatur Sts. Telephone IVy 3510

For speed, service and satisfaction, use

SOUTHEASTERN EXPRESS

MAIN 0110 "The South's Own Express Company" MAIN 0110

The Krueger Manufacturing Co.

Bank, Office and Stores Fixtures Main 3849

MILL WORK SPECIALISTS

MARSHALL MFG. CO.

SUPERIOR SERVICE
ROME, GA.

ART GLASS

AMERICAN EUROPEAN STUDIOS
450 Courtland St. Atlanta, Ga.

Gholstin Spring & Mattress Co.

Spring Beds, Mattresses, Cots, Pillows, Iron Beds
Manufacturers—Atlanta

THE WILLIAM WILSON CO., Inc.

PAINTING AND DECORATING
LARGE CONTRACTS A SPECIALTY
—WE TAKE WORK ANYWHERE—
—Surety Bonds on All Contracts—
Boni Allen Bldg., WAl. 1219 Atlanta, Georgia

A. W. Haas Pattern Co.

Patterns, Drawings, Models
Estimates furnished from drawings submitted.
401 Peters St. MAIn 1249 Atlanta, Ga.

C. M. MOUNT

Shrubbery and Landscape Gardener
Phone E. P. 1379
122 E. Mercer Ave. COLLEGE PARK, GA.

Electrical Engineering & Repair Company

Electrical Contractors
ELECTRICAL CONSTRUCTION WORK
116 Edgewood Ave., Atlanta, Ga. WAl. 1334; Res. WEst 2457-W

STORE FLOORS

Rubber Tile Floors
Call and see us or phone IVy 2724
W. A. Lippincott, Inc.
172 Spring St. (See Floor Mural's New Store Henry Grady Hotel.)

ATLANTA BLUE PRINT COMPANY, Inc.

Headquarters for Engineering and Drafting Supplies.
Let us show you the value of our Photostat Service.
IVy 6940 96 Walton St.

W. B. WHITTEN

Sheet Metal Work and Slate Roofing Agent
HOMER FURNACE
MA. 1871 517 Flat Shoals Ave.

W. L. Fleischer

Painter and Paper Hanger
"Any Time — Any Where Any Time"
67 Candler St. IVy 6327-J

Troy Laundry

CLEANING—DYEING
WAl. 4908

Chas. Roper & Co.

Public Accountants
Fourth National Bank Bldg.
Walnut 3762

The R. F. Knox Company

(Formerly Knox & Maier)
Tin, Slate and Tile Roofing, Sheet Metal Work, Jobbing, Concrete Roofing, Tile, Ice Cream Can Retaining.
703-81 Marietta St. IVy 8726

Brannan, Beckham and Company

INVESTMENT BONDS
Wynne-Claughton Bldg. Atlanta
"We Offer a Real Service to Investors."

M. A. LANDERS & BROS.

General Machinists
Specialists in Printing Machinery, Welding and Paper Knife Grinding. Dealers in Printing Machinery, Motors and Paper Knives.
MAIn 1117 66-68 Garnett St.

SCREENED WINDOW DEMAND INCREASES

Screen doors and windows that fit—fulfilling the purpose thoroughly for which the average person buys such necessary equipment for home, store and other buildings—is a satisfactory safeguard to health and comfort which no one denies.

Just such equipment and service may be had for the shanty at Floyd Brothers, 519 Flat Shoals avenue. With screen doors and windows are all metal weather strips, store fixtures and shelving which include the best in materials and workmanship that capable hands can accomplish.

Floyd Brothers' firm has an established clientele which is being augmented each month. Demands for good materials which embody craftsmanship and experience has brought about a steady increase in demand for products of this company which has resulted in a decided increase in business over the past few months.

Preparations have been made by Floyd Brothers to meet the demand by placing at the disposal of patrons a corps of workers whose judgment and experience in materials offered by the firm is recognized by the general public and appreciated by satisfied patrons over a wide territory. The firm enjoys confidence of its patrons as well as the confidence of the public, with the result that the firm has an enviable prestige and is a most valuable addition to this city's ever-increasing business circle.

Randall Fuel Co. Sets High Mark In Coal Business

Randall Fuel company, wholesale dealers in high-grade coal, is an Atlanta firm whose marked business growth has justified the faith of its officials in the "Gate City of the South." The firm, while an Atlanta enterprise first, last and always, is widely known and its business relations with the buying public over a considerable period has given it a prestige which only can appreciate.

"Quality Service"—two words which stand out prominently in advertisements of the firm in local newspapers, has even a greater meaning to the actual purchaser or person who deals with Randall Fuel officials. The words have a meaning which satisfied patrons only can appreciate.

"Quality," synonymous with the best and carrying an appeal to everyone, is an outstanding feature of Randall products.

"Service" is that thing which present day demands must have.

With quality and service as a foundation there is no business which cannot thrive and it is the two vital things in the Randall Fuel organization which has resulted in business increases year after year and in the addition annually of scores and scores of new customers.

The Randall firm has offices in the Peters building, callers or telephone inquiries have the same prompt attention and service, and dealers or others interested in Randall Fuel company products are assured by officials of every consideration and service.

Gate City Mattress Firm Is Real Service Institution to City

Renovation of mattresses and the building of solid felt and felt plate mattresses is a business which requires a thoroughness and experience which only persons who are acquainted with the business can possibly undertake with success. With the Gate City Mattress company, of which Paul G. Hornbuckle and M. P. Pratt are directing heads, renovating and building of mattresses has become a business which has drawn them closely to patrons not only in this city but in adjoining sections.

"Materials and experience, coupled with promptness in meeting the demands of a critical and exacting public," officials point out, "is the basis upon which we have built up our business to a point where additional space and more workers are becoming acute problems. We try to satisfy all our customers," Mr. Hornbuckle said.

Mattresses which have served much of their usefulness are taken into this plant and within a few hours are converted into virtually a new mattress, the complete renovation methods employed by the firm proving a great service to the community. Rebuilt mattresses are those from which the average housewife thinks are no longer serviceable, which the Gate City method converts into a genuine mattress of comfort.

"We are pleased with the progress of the firm," Mr. Pratt asserted Saturday. "It's a pleasure to work for an appreciative work force and to be able to satisfy demands of people who feel that while they probably have had good service from a particular mattress, they are loath to part with it and want it either rebuilt or renovated. That's our work—our business. We try to satisfy each patron."

The Gate City firm has been recognized as one of the leading of its kind in the south and its fame for service and satisfaction has brought to it a tremendous volume of business from Atlanta and nearby cities and towns. Officials of the firm are well known in local business and civic circles and ever putting their shoulders to any move looking to the betterment of any phase of Atlanta's business.

The company is located at 404 Decatur street.

IMPROVEMENTS MADE ON MACON STORE

Macon, Ga., May 31.—(Special.)—Work of remodeling the old W. A. Doody company building, Cherry and Second streets has started. Two more stories are to be added to the three-story structure and when completed it will become the home of the Macon National bank.

Improvements to be made will cost more than $100,000.

"WILLIE" Process Asphalt Pavements

The World's Best Pavement
405 Has-Howell Bldg. Atlanta, Ga.

ROME SCHOOL GRADUATES 60

CONSTITUTION BUREAU.
Rome, Ga., May 31.—(Special.)—Sixty seniors received their diplomas from Rome high school Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at Municipal auditorium, following the commencement address by O. N. Richardson, chairman of board of education. Prof. B. F. Quigg, superintendent of public schools, will deliver the diploma.

Richard Rankin, first honor pupil of the class, will be salutatorian, and Virginia Bryan, second honor pupil, valedictorian, while Donald Ragdale, third honor pupil, will give the class motto.

This closes a successful year at Rome high and an unusually large senior class will receive diplomas. The following program will be given: music, high school orchestra; song, Girls' glee club; chorus, Boys' glee club; music, Ukulele club; "In the Garden of Tomorrow," junior boys and girls; Indian club drill, junior girls; professional.

Invocation, Rev. H. F. Joyner; salutary, Richard Rankin; class motto, Donald Ragdale; valedictory, Virginia Bryan; address, O. N. Richardson; delivery of diplomas, Superintendent B. F. Quigg.

Shorter Club Elects.
Rome, Ga., May 31.—(Special.)—Miss Virginia Penn, of Rome, has been honored with the presidency of the classical club of Shorter college, whose members include those students majoring in the classical languages and whose director is Dr. Clara Thompson, head of the department.

Other officers include Miss Caroline Wilford, folklorist; Kye, vice president; Miss Alice Faust, Chattanooga, secretary; Miss Mary Ruth Buchanan, Dalton, treasurer; Ruth Laura Kersey, Dalton, reporter; Miss Leona Ward, Irrede, chairman of program committee.

Plan for Golf and Tennis.
Rome, Ga., May 31.—(Special.)—Formation of a golf and tennis club to use the grounds of Legion park will be considered Tuesday night by a group of men called together by Secretary Foster of the club. It is planned to open a golf course and tennis courts at the park to be used by members of the club and others who pay a small fee.

It is stated that the Legion is ready to put the golf course in shape for play within 30 days after the club is formed.

Record Established By Congressman Lee In Barley Harvest

A new record in Georgia agriculture has been set by Congressman Gordon Lee, of the seventh district, who this spring averaged 52 1-2 bushels of barley to the acre.

From 14.9 acres planted in barley the harvest was 653 shocks, with a dozen bushels to a shock, which netted 783 bushels. The average barley crop, according to officials of the state college of agriculture, is about 10 bushels per acre, and the harvest reported by Mr. Lee is by far the best ever raised in Georgia.

Congressman Lee's farm is located in Walker county, near Chickamauga.

In a letter to Dr. William Bradford, assistant state agent for the state college of agriculture in boys' club work, Mr. Lee said:

"This is the finest illustration ever presented of what can be done by building up the soil, and it should be carefully tabulated and illustrated for use in the state."

Dr. Bradford, who is devoting much of his time to organization of boys' soil building clubs, also announced Saturday that Mr. Lee has offered $25 annually to the county in the seventh district to be divided among each county in the seventh district, to be divided among the three boys doing the best work in soil-building.

Soil-building, Dr. Bradford explained, consists principally of putting plant life back into the soil.

Troy Official's Faith In City Justified, Its Business Shows

Inseparably linked with Atlanta's cleaning and dyeing industry is the Troy Laundry company, one of the city's oldest established and most reliable laundry concerns.

Started in 1895, the Troy laundry has been built up by its owners until it is one of the leading enterprises in this section in its line, and includes all types of cleaning and dyeing for Atlanta's discriminating populace.

Officials of the Troy company are neat at all times, and its plant is spotless, resembling a tidy room more than a laundry. The plant contains the latest type of high-grade and expensive laundry machines, run by only skilled labor.

Living up to the ideals of its originators, the Troy steam laundry has accomplished a great deal of the cleaning and dyeing industry in the city. The work turned out by the laundry is of the finest, and many satisfied customers are proud to be numbered among its clients.

Troy laundry trucks can be seen in all sections of the city, serving its customers in the same highly satisfactory manner which has characterized its long service in the cleaning and dyeing field in this city. The laundry is recognized as one of the largest and most modern in the entire south, is operated by workmen whose years of experience have fitted them for the service, and the high-class patronage of the firm demand and know they will receive.

Troy company officials are leaders in every move for the betterment of conditions generally, are firm believers in Atlanta, having demonstrated in the city by placing at the service of its rapidly growing population a laundry second to none in the country.

In return, the city has shown its appreciation of Troy service, with the result that Troy laundry's business shows steady increase from month to month.

JAPANESE SAILORS PATROL RIOT SCENE

London, May 31.—Japanese sailors are patrolling the city of Tientsin, while destroyers are en route from Port Arthur as the result of the anti-Japanese riots at Shanghai and Tientsin, according to Central News dispatches from Shanghai.

Six persons have been killed and 27 injured in these riots at Shanghai and Tientsin.

Electronic Research Leaders To Gather For 3-Day Session

Doctors of the Southern Electronic Research society will hold a three-day meeting at the Henry Grady hotel beginning Tuesday, June 2. Dr. Francis A. Cave, of Boston, Mass., president of the American Electronic Research association, will be present, as well as several others of national reputation in this new school of medicine.

At this meeting a free clinic for diagnosis will be held. This clinic will be open to those unable to pay regular fees for examination. The electronic method specializes in diagnoses and by its new methods it is able to determine with greater accuracy the underlying conditions of disease in many ways than by the older methods alone. Its members assert. Any one suspecting cancer, tuberculosis, malaria, or any other condition which may be obscure and which has puzzled other physicians will be welcomed to this clinic for a free examination and diagnosis, it was said.

Any one desiring to take this examination will be given all information by calling at 502 Grand building, Peachtree street, opposite Carnegie library, on Monday or Tuesday, or may phone Walnut 1784.

EXPORTS FROM GEORGIA INCREASE IN VALUE

Georgia, with merchandise exports valued at $84,963,380, finished in the year 1924 in fifteenth place in the list of states fighting for export markets, according to statistics released by the department of commerce.

Raw cotton exports was the principal cause of Georgia's triumph of nearly $14,000,000 over Maryland, its runner-up, in the race for a dominant position among the various states. Wisconsin was just ahead in fourth place with an export trade of $89,290,805, while Maryland was in sixteenth place with an overseas export trade valued at $71,178,310.

Other commodities which aided materially in Georgia's success were resin, amounting to $4,939,504; spirits of turpentine, $4,685,504; cotton cloth and apparel, $2,750,182, and leaf tobacco, $1,276,957. The value of the total export trade of the United States for the year 1924 was $4,498,151,936.

Exports amounting to over $100,000,000 for the year were attained by 11 states of the 52 states and regions included in the tabulation, it is shown. These were: Texas, with figures of $737,218,927; New York, $731,593,502; Pennsylvania, $293,290,154; Illinois, $239,314,270; California, $234,684,210; New Jersey, $223,921,294; Louisiana, $222,845,224; Michigan, $177,876,654; Virginia, $150,198,225; Ohio, $133,559,362; and Massachusetts, with merchandise valuations of $114,418,490.

Minnesota, with shipments valued at $99,880,490, was just outside of the first 11 states, while Nevada, with exports amounting to but $233,413, brought up the rear of the entire list.

BIG HIGHWAY MEET SLATED FOR ATLANTA

The designation of important interstate roads in the southern states will be determined at a meeting of state highway officials of these states to be held in Atlanta on June 8. These roads will be uniformly marked as United States highways.

The Atlanta meeting is the outcome of the initial conference of the joint board of interstate highways composed of state and federal highway officials which was held in Washington April 20-21.

Regional meetings have already been held in Kansas City, Chicago, and San Francisco, and the Atlanta conference will be followed with similar meetings in New York and Boston which will have as their purpose the selection of important interstate roads to be known as United States highways.

The selected routes will be designated, it is said, by a number and marked uniformly in all states with a standard marker. Each of the state highway departments will present at the conference a map showing the routes within the state which in the opinion of the department should be selected, and this will be the basis for the selection of the routes, it is said.

State highway officials from Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Alabama, Tennessee, Florida, Mississippi, Virginia and West Virginia, will be present at the Atlanta meeting, it is said by Georgia highway officials.

It was pointed out by officials here that the proposal to designate important interstate roads was the result of discussion initiated at by the American Association of State Highway Officials at the annual meeting of the association held in San Francisco last year, when the secretary of agriculture was asked to name a joint board to consider the question.

At the Atlanta meeting, as has been the custom at previous meetings held in other parts of the country, proposals with respect to the form and color of warning and directional signs for the interstate roads will be presented to the highway officials for their consideration.

PASTOR DISCUSSES WAR IN CHURCHES

"The greatest war of the ages is now going on," Dr. Russell Brown, pastor of the First Congregational church, told his audience Sunday. "It is a war between spirits," he continued. "At war between the spirit of Jesus in man and the creeds, forms and doctrines of men—a clash over the religions about Jesus and the religion of Jesus."

He stated that the church had delegated much of its power to other agencies because it insists on closing its ears to progress and science. Dr. Brown defended Dr. Ford's view of the Bible and said he believed Professor Scopes, of Dayton, Tenn., would be a hero and has done the Christian church much good whether he is found technically guilty or not.

Rock Island

Colorado

THIS SUMMER?

Take the children with you. Let them play in the cool out-of-doors, where tonic air will harden their muscles, brighten their cheeks and scenic grandeur will leave an everlasting impression upon their memories.

Through Sleeping Car Daily

via Southern Railway—Frisco Lines—Rock Island Lines

Leave Atlanta (Southern Ry.)	7:00 a.m.
Leave Birmingham (Frisco Lines)	12:30 p.m.
Leave Memphis (Frisco Lines)	7:50 p.m.
Leave Kansas City (Rock Island Lines)	11:00 a.m.
Arrive Denver (Rock Island Lines)	7:40 a.m.
Arrive Colorado Springs (Rock Island Lines)	7:30 a.m.

Dining Car for All Meals.

The Rock Island takes you direct to either Denver or Colorado Springs. Round trip tickets at very low rates on sale daily throughout the summer. Return limit October 31st. Stopover anywhere.

Fares, reservations or personal service on request.
C. P. BRADLEY, District Passenger Agent, Rock Island Lines
813 Healy Building, Phone Walnut 1186, Atlanta, Ga.

Rock Island Lines

LAST FEW DAYS!

The record breaking distribution of the New Dictionary, ends NEXT SATURDAY

Better get yours today or tomorrow, so as to be sure to avoid disappointment, as the offer will positively be withdrawn in a few days. So clip your coupons from

THE CONSTITUTION AND GET YOURS AT ONCE

Your last chance confronts you, so don't stop—don't delay—don't wait—and

Don't Forget

You want to remember to take home one of these new dictionaries; so tie a string around your finger—or your thumb—and don't forget what the string is for—new dictionary—THE new dictionary.

And unless your home has this new dictionary, it might as well be without one. The publishers realized that fact many months ago, so they discarded their old printing plates and made an entirely new dictionary from start to finish.

While This Offer Lasts This New Dictionary Is Yours for only 98c

As explained in the Dictionary coupon

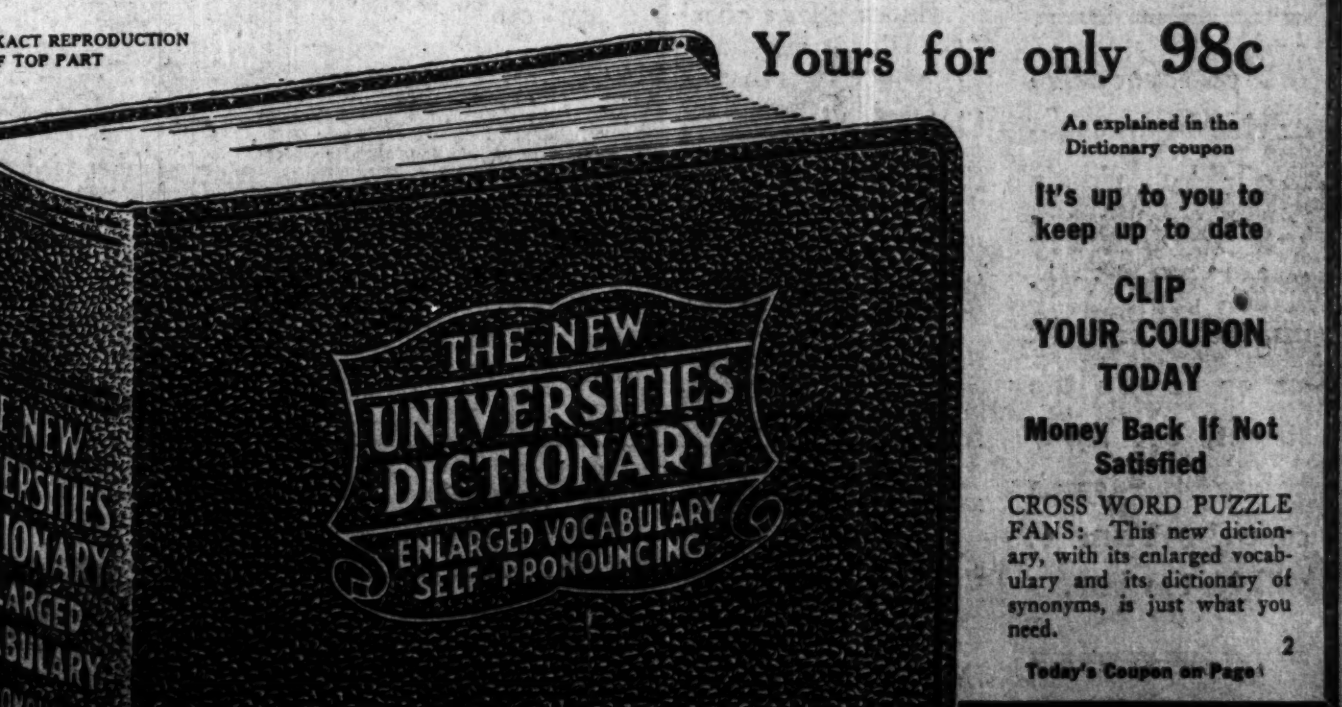

It's up to you to keep up to date

CLIP YOUR COUPON TODAY

Money Back If Not Satisfied

CROSS WORD PUZZLE FANS: This new dictionary, with its enlarged vocabulary and its dictionary of synonyms, is just what you need.

Today's Coupon on Page 2

"1 KILLED—2 HURT"

As Auto Crashes Into Phone Pole on Peachtree Road

From a front page headline of The Constitution, May 30: "Rome Man Killed" by railroad train crashing into his auto at crossing.

"Three Are Injured in Automobile Accidents in Atlanta."

All of the above in the same day's issue of The Constitution.

Although The Constitution has been telling the people of Atlanta and Georgia of the great Travel and Pedestrian Accident Insurance Reader Service it is rendering to its subscribers and their families between the ages of 16 and 70—telling them and urging them for nearly four years to secure this protection at once, not one of those killed or injured referred to in the headlines had taken advantage of The Constitution's great accident insurance protection offer.

Would $7,500.00
$2,000.00
or $1,000.00

be worth anything to your family if you were killed or maimed in a travel accident, automobile accident or wreck, or by being struck or knocked down while crossing or walking the street? If not protected, why delay, when the cost is only $1.00 to Constitution subscribers?

Do It Now! Tomorrow May Be Too Late!

YOU MAY BE KILLED TODAY!

Get This Protection NOW—Today!
Before It Is Too Late!

Over $26,000.00 has already been paid to Constitution subscribers in death and accident claims. The best is none too good for Constitution subscribers and their families, and the protection you get through The Constitution is by far the best offered by any Southern Newspaper.

CONSTITUTION POLICY COVERS YOU IF KILLED OR INJURED

While riding or driving in an auto, truck or horse-driven vehicle, either for PLEASURE or BUSINESS, or while riding as a passenger in any public omnibus, taxicab or automobile stage, or the wrecking of a passenger elevator.

If struck or knocked down while walking on a public highway or public street by an automobile, street car, or other vehicle, or burned to death, or suffocated therein, private residence, office building, lodge building, etc., or while riding as a passenger on a street car, railroad train, or steamship.

To Subscribers of The Constitution

$7500.00

Travel Accident Insurance Policy

For a Registration Fee of $1.00

Policy increases 10% per year to $11,250.00 value in five years.

$2,000.00 automobile, omnibus, taxicab, motorcycle, passenger elevator, accidental death. Death caused by burning of dwelling house, hotel, theater, office building, lodgeroom, clubhouse, school building, store, church, or barn, or suffocated by smoke while therein.

POLICY INCREASES 10% PER YEAR TO $3,000.00 VALUE IN FIVE YEARS

$1,000.00 PEDESTRIAN ACCIDENTAL DEATH POLICY INCREASES 10% PER YEAR TO $1,500.00 VALUE IN FIVE YEARS.

TOTAL DISABILITY UNDER TRAVEL, AUTO OR PEDESTRIAN CLAUSE (As Specified in the Policy) $10.00 PER WEEK UP TO 15 WEEKS

Protection at Less Than Cost

Every individual in Atlanta and adjoining territory between the ages of 16 and 70 has the opportunity of holding this policy by the payment of the nominal registration fee. Only one $7,500 policy on a subscription at $1.00. Additional members of the family can have the $7,500 policy at $2.00 per policy, or a $2,500 policy at $1.00 each.

If you are not now subscribing to the Daily and Sunday Constitution, you can have it brought to you by carrier in Atlanta, or any of the towns outside of Atlanta where we have a carrier delivery service, paying the carrier as usual, or sent by mail at the regular mail rates, and you will be qualified to hold this public service insurance without any further cost for the policy.

This policy is issued by the North American Accident Insurance Company, of Chicago, Ill. Over $26,000.00 in claims ranging from $10.00 to $1,000.00 each, have already been paid to Constitution subscribers by the North American Accident Insurance Company during the last three years.

Subscription rate by carrier, or mail, one week, 20c; one month, 90c; three months, $2.50; six months, $5.00 or twelve months, $9.50. All subscriptions by mail must be paid in advance. This insurance is issued only to subscribers of the Daily and Sunday Constitution and their families.

ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

READER SERVICE CLUB

NEW-OLD

CIRCULATION DEPARTMENT.

If you ever drive or ride in an automobile, street car, railroad train, buggy, wagon, or walk on or cross the streets, act now before the crash comes! Then it will be too late.

Signed _____ Age _____
(Name of subscriber in full here.)
City _____
Number _____ Street _____ State _____
By Mail _____ By Carrier _____ Occupation _____

NOTE: $1.00 must be sent with this coupon and your full name written, giving also age and occupation. Only one $7,500 policy on a subscription at $1.00. Additional members of the family can have the $7,500 policy at $2.00 per policy, or a $2,500 policy at $1.00 each.

AMUSEMENTS

Atlanta Theater—The world's record play, "Abie's Irish Rose."

Loew's Grand Theater—Loew's vaudeville and feature pictures.

Keith's Forsyth Theater—Keith's vaudeville and feature pictures.

Howard Theater—Raymond Griffith in "The Night Club."

Metropolitan Theater—Antonio Moreno in "One Year to Live."

Rialto Theater—Pauline Stark in "Adventure."

Palace Theater—DeMille's "Male and Female."

Cameo Theater—DeMille's "Male and Female."

Alma No. 2—"The Rejected Woman."

Alma No. 1—Harry Carey in "Silent Sanders."

Tudor Theater—Adolph Menjou in "Broken Barriers."

"Abie's Irish Rose."

(At The Atlanta Tonight.)

"Abie's Irish Rose," Anne Nichols smashing, record-breaking laugh play, opens a week's engagement at the Atlanta Theater tonight with Wednesday and Saturday matinees. Those that have never seen this wonder play had better get in line and procure their seats well in advance. Under the date of November 25, The Nashville Banner says: "Abie's Irish Rose" makes all those that see it happy and is presented by a capable cast. It is by far the best thing this city has seen in years. If the owners of this famous play compute their profits, at least one of the 120 to the hour required to put the plot before the audience."

Keith's Vaudeville.

A smile makes friends, which is one reason for numberless admirers of Miss Ruth Budd, late of the Ziegfeld Midway Theater, who is headlining the excellent bill at Keith's Forsyth theater the first part of this week. For Miss Budd is known as "The Girl With the Smile."

The program also includes the "Blue Bird Revue," a blend of four voices admirably suited for harmonizing purposes. Al Friend and Jack Spaulding have a skit entitled "A Letter From Home," and Hal Chamberlain and Vivian Earle offer a vaudeville novelty filled with songs and patter. Yezeck and Eddy are wire artists and perform in a daring and sensational manner.

Vaudeville and Pictures.

(At Loew's Grand.)

Loew's Grand theater will offer a big treat to amusement lovers this week in the new vaudeville bill, which will be headed by Lillian ("Dimples") Walker, famed motion picture star, who will appear in person in her latest sketch, "Home's Sweet Home," written for her by Edwin R. Franklin.

All movie fans recall Miss Walker, ranked as one of the most beautiful as well as one of the most capable screen actresses in the country. Prior to her work in the studios, Miss Walker was a musical comedy star under the management of Flo Ziegfeld and George Edwards.

There are four other excellent acts on the new bill and Buster Keaton in "Seven Chances," the big Metro-Goldwyn comedy success, is the Loew feature picture offering for the week.

ATLANTA ADDRESSES WASHINGTON MEETING

Washington, May 31.—(Special.) Secretary of the Navy Wilbur made an inspiring appeal here Saturday for "fidelity to country, home and friends." The secretary was principal speaker at a pre-convention meeting of the United States and Canadian National Association of the Macabees, held here Saturday.

Secretary Wilbur announced that school children of the nation would be asked to contribute about 3 cents each to work of reconditioning the famous old battleship "Constitution," this being done with the idea of re-educating children of today that their forefathers sacrificed much that they might enjoy the "great privileges and freedom enjoyed by them."

Theodore C. Risley, solicitor for the department of labor, made the address of welcome, and was followed by M. D. Gleason, of Atlanta, national director of the Macabees carnival, who made a glowing report of progress of this movement from all parts of the United States and Canada.

Sections were preparing to move on Washington, July 20.

Mr. Gleason, who had just returned from a tour of New York, stated that New York state Macabees and their friends would mobilize at Syracuse, N. Y., and July 15 and 16, and then proceed to Washington, D. C., and Baltimore, Md., going in with Macabees of that city in a big Macabees parade.

Mr. Gleason stated, however, "the greatest motorcade of all will leave Atlanta, Ga., July 12, after a three-day jubilee in that city and would stage big parades and celebrations in Charlotte, Raleigh, Richmond and Elizabethburg, en route to Washington."

Supreme Commander A. W. Frye announced that 4,350 new members were accepted in Washington district alone in the past 40 days, and that it was already assured that more than 10,000 new members would be enrolled by the close of the international convention held here the week of July 20-26.

The Atlanta convention and tourist bureau announces that Atlanta has been selected as the 1926 convention city of the Reserve City Bankers of the United States, which will convene here sometime in April, of next year.

The association is composed of the prominent financial institutions of the country located in reserve cities. Membership in the association is limited to 400 and there is always a long waiting list of applicants, it is said. It is expected that at least 200 of these institutions will be represented at the Atlanta meeting, all of whom will be outstanding figures in the banking world.

Officers of the association are: H. F. McNally, St. Louis, president; H. F. Lemmon, Kansas City, vice president; H. W. Martin, Atlanta, convention secretary. Atlanta members of the association are W. J. Blacklock, president of the Fulton National bank; H. W. Martin, vice president of the Atlanta and Lowry National bank; J. S. Kooner, vice president; R. F. Maddox, chairman of the board, Atlanta and Lowry National bank; H. Lane Young, vice president and executive manager, Citizens and Southern bank; and Stewart McGinty, vice president, Fourth National bank.

Full information as to grades and ratings as well as possible assignments, can be had from Captain Edwin O. Baker, signal officer at corps headquarters, Red Rock building, or the recruiting officer at the Austell building.

For the first time in nearly a year opportunity is afforded to young men of Georgia and South Carolina to enter the United States army, according to information given out at the recruiting office at 500 Austell building.

Vacancies are to be filled in the positions of radio and telegraph operators, line men, switchboard operators and meteorologists. While men of experience are most desired, there will be an opportunity for others, preferably men with high school education or its equivalent.

The standards to which applicants may expect to be assigned if found qualified and accepted are all within the limits of the four corps areas, which comprises the eight southeastern states.

Full information as to grades and ratings as well as possible assignments, can be had from Captain Edwin O. Baker, signal officer at corps headquarters, Red Rock building, or the recruiting officer at the Austell building.

For the first time in nearly a year opportunity is afforded to young men of Georgia and South Carolina to enter the United States army, according to information given out at the recruiting office at 500 Austell building.

Vacancies are to be filled in the positions of radio and telegraph operators, line men, switchboard operators and meteorologists. While men of experience are most desired, there will be an opportunity for others, preferably men with high school education or its equivalent.

The standards to which applicants may expect to be assigned if found qualified and accepted are all within the limits of the four corps areas, which comprises the eight southeastern states.

Full information as to grades and ratings as well as possible assignments, can be had from Captain Edwin O. Baker, signal officer at corps headquarters, Red Rock building, or the recruiting officer at the Austell building.

For the first time in nearly a year opportunity is afforded to young men of Georgia and South Carolina to enter the United States army, according to information given out at the recruiting office at 500 Austell building.

Vacancies are to be filled in the positions of radio and telegraph operators, line men, switchboard operators and meteorologists. While men of experience are most desired, there will be an opportunity for others, preferably men with high school education or its equivalent.

The standards to which applicants may expect to be assigned if found qualified and accepted are all within the limits of the four corps areas, which comprises the eight southeastern states.

Full information as to grades and ratings as well as possible assignments, can be had from Captain Edwin O. Baker, signal officer at corps headquarters, Red Rock building, or the recruiting officer at the Austell building.

For the first time in nearly a year opportunity is afforded to young men of Georgia and South Carolina to enter the United States army, according to information given out at the recruiting office at 500 Austell building.

Vacancies are to be filled in the positions of radio and telegraph operators, line men, switchboard operators and meteorologists. While men of experience are most desired, there will be an opportunity for others, preferably men with high school education or its equivalent.

The standards to which applicants may expect to be assigned if found qualified and accepted are all within the limits of the four corps areas, which comprises the eight southeastern states.

Full information as to grades and ratings as well as possible assignments, can be had from Captain Edwin O. Baker, signal officer at corps headquarters, Red Rock building, or the recruiting officer at the Austell building.

For the first time in nearly a year opportunity is afforded to young men of Georgia and South Carolina to enter the United States army, according to information given out at the recruiting office at 500 Austell building.

Vacancies are to be filled in the positions of radio and telegraph operators, line men, switchboard operators and meteorologists. While men of experience are most desired, there will be an opportunity for others, preferably men with high school education or its equivalent.

The standards to which applicants may expect to be assigned if found qualified and accepted are all within the limits of the four corps areas, which comprises the eight southeastern states.

Full information as to grades and ratings as well as possible assignments, can be had from Captain Edwin O. Baker, signal officer at corps headquarters, Red Rock building, or the recruiting officer at the Austell building.

For the first time in nearly a year opportunity is afforded to young men of Georgia and South Carolina to enter the United States army, according to information given out at the recruiting office at 500 Austell building.

Vacancies are to be filled in the positions of radio and telegraph operators, line men, switchboard operators and meteorologists. While men of experience are most desired, there will be an opportunity for others, preferably men with high school education or its equivalent.

The standards to which applicants may expect to be assigned if found qualified and accepted are all within the limits of the four corps areas, which comprises the eight southeastern states.

Full information as to grades and ratings as well as possible assignments, can be had from Captain Edwin O. Baker, signal officer at corps headquarters, Red Rock building, or the recruiting officer at the Austell building.

For the first time in nearly a year opportunity is afforded to young men of Georgia and South Carolina to enter the United States army, according to information given out at the recruiting office at 500 Austell building.

Vacancies are to be filled in the positions of radio and telegraph operators, line men, switchboard operators and meteorologists. While men of experience are most desired, there will be an opportunity for others, preferably men with high school education or its equivalent.

The standards to which applicants may expect to be assigned if found qualified and accepted are all within the limits of the four corps areas, which comprises the eight southeastern states.

Full information as to grades and ratings as well as possible assignments, can be had from Captain Edwin O. Baker, signal officer at corps headquarters, Red Rock building, or the recruiting officer at the Austell building.

For the first time in nearly a year opportunity is afforded to young men of Georgia and South Carolina to enter the United States army, according to information given out at the recruiting office at 500 Austell building.

Vacancies are to be filled in the positions of radio and telegraph operators, line men, switchboard operators and meteorologists. While men of experience are most desired, there will be an opportunity for others, preferably men with high school education or its equivalent.

The standards to which applicants may expect to be assigned if found qualified and accepted are all within the limits of the four corps areas, which comprises the eight southeastern states.

Full information as to grades and ratings as well as possible assignments, can be had from Captain Edwin O. Baker, signal officer at corps headquarters, Red Rock building, or the recruiting officer at the Austell building.

For the first time in nearly a year opportunity is afforded to young men of Georgia and South Carolina to enter the United States army, according to information given out at the recruiting office at 500 Austell building.

Vacancies are to be filled in the positions of radio and telegraph operators, line men, switchboard operators and meteorologists. While men of experience are most desired, there will be an opportunity for others, preferably men with high school education or its equivalent.

The standards to which applicants may expect to be assigned if found qualified and accepted are all within the limits of the four corps areas, which comprises the eight southeastern states.

Full information as to grades and ratings as well as possible assignments, can be had from Captain Edwin O. Baker, signal officer at corps headquarters, Red Rock building, or the recruiting officer at the Austell building.

For the first time in nearly a year opportunity is afforded to young men of Georgia and South Carolina to enter the United States army, according to information given out at the recruiting office at 500 Austell building.

Vacancies are to be filled in the positions of radio and telegraph operators, line men, switchboard operators and meteorologists. While men of experience are most desired, there will be an opportunity for others, preferably men with high school education or its equivalent.

The standards to which applicants may expect to be assigned if found qualified and accepted are all within the limits of the four corps areas, which comprises the eight southeastern states.

Full information as to grades and ratings as well as possible assignments, can be had from Captain Edwin O. Baker, signal officer at corps headquarters, Red Rock building, or the recruiting officer at the Austell building.

For the first time in nearly a year opportunity is afforded to young men of Georgia and South Carolina to enter the United States army, according to information given out at the recruiting office at 500 Austell building.

Vacancies are to be filled in the positions of radio and telegraph operators, line men, switchboard operators and meteorologists. While men of experience are most desired, there will be an opportunity for others, preferably men with high school education or its equivalent.

The standards to which applicants may expect to be assigned if found qualified and accepted are all within the limits of the four corps areas, which comprises the eight southeastern states.

Full information as to grades and ratings as well as possible assignments, can be had from Captain Edwin O. Baker, signal officer at corps headquarters, Red Rock building, or the recruiting officer at the Austell building.

ATLANTA TONIGHT

ALL THIS WEEK STARTING

THE WORLD'S COMEDY SENSATION

ANNA NICHOLS' LAUGHING SUCCESS

ABIE'S IRISH ROSE

LOEW'S GRAND THEATRE

Continuous 11 to 11 P. M.

Vaudeville 3:30, 7 and 9 P. M.

THE DARLING OF THE SCREEN

LILLIAN WALKER

DIMPLES

(IN PERSON)

In a Comedy Playlet Entitled

"Home's Sweet Home"

FOUR OTHER

LOEW ACTS

Photoplay, 2:45, 5 and 10 P. M.

THE FUNNIEST MAN IN PICTURES IN HIS BIGGEST LAUGH SENSATION

BUSTER KEATON

"Seven Chances"

A METRO-GOLDWYN PICTURE

Arts, 1:30-5:30. Nights, 1:30-5:30-8:00

DELUGE OF LAUGHTER

KEITH'S FORSYTH

Vaudeville

8 SHOWS DAILY: 2:30-7:30-9:15 P. M.

Matinees, 2:30-5:30. Nights, 7:30-9:15-11:00

RUTH BUD

"The Girl With the Smile"

FRIEND & SPARKLING

CHAMBERLIN & EARLE

YEZECK & EDDY

FATHE NEWS—FATHE REVIEW

RIALTO

Coldest Spot in Town

Just Loew's Masterpiece

"Adventure"

A Paramount Picture

With Pauline Stark, Tom Moore and CHARLIE CHAPLIN in 11:00-12:40-2:30-4:30-6:30-8:30-10:30

On the Stage Opened by

VERA REYNOLDS—WALLACE BERRY—LOUISE FAZENDA—CHESTER CONNOLLY

A PARAMOUNT PICTURE

THE FUNNIEST MAN IN PICTURES IN HIS BIGGEST LAUGH SENSATION

HE'S EVER MADE—AND THAT'S FUNNY!

OPENS TODAY

THE NEW COMIC KING

THE NIGHT CLUB

and took at this comedy support

VERA REYNOLDS—WALLACE BERRY—LOUISE FAZENDA—CHESTER CONNOLLY

A PARAMOUNT PICTURE

THE FUNNIEST MAN IN PICTURES IN HIS BIGGEST LAUGH SENSATION

HE'S EVER MADE—AND THAT'S FUNNY!

OPENS TODAY

THE NEW COMIC KING

THE NIGHT CLUB

and took at this comedy support

VERA REYNOLDS—WALLACE BERRY—LOUISE FAZENDA—CHESTER CONNOLLY

A PARAMOUNT PICTURE

THE FUNNIEST MAN IN PICTURES IN HIS BIGGEST LAUGH SENSATION

HE'S EVER MADE—AND THAT'S FUNNY!

OPENS TODAY

THE NEW COMIC KING

THE NIGHT CLUB

and took at this comedy support

VERA REYNOLDS—WALLACE BERRY—LOUISE FAZENDA—CHESTER CONNOLLY

A PARAMOUNT PICTURE

THE FUNNIEST MAN IN PICTURES IN HIS BIGGEST LAUGH SENSATION

HE'S EVER MADE—AND THAT'S FUNNY!

OPENS TODAY

THE NEW COMIC KING

THE NIGHT CLUB

and took at this comedy support

VERA REYNOLDS—WALLACE BERRY—LOUISE FAZENDA—CHESTER CONNOLLY

A PARAMOUNT PICTURE

THE FUNNIEST MAN IN PICTURES IN HIS BIGGEST LAUGH SENSATION

HE'S EVER MADE—AND THAT'S FUNNY!

OPENS TODAY

THE NEW COMIC KING

THE NIGHT CLUB

and took at this comedy support

There Are Pleasant Rooms For Rent At Reasonable Prices Listed On This Page

Rooms and Board

Real Estate for Rent

Real Estate for Sale

There's Some Credit to Your Account

in The Constitution's A-B-C Classified Section!
Real cash—a neat sum saved out of the money you would ordinarily spend on necessities and luxuries during the coming months.

It's every bit as good as credit at any store in town—and all you have to do to get it is simply to watch for the unusual opportunities that are appearing from day to day in the Classified Columns.

The ads in which you'll be interested are easy to find because all those of any particular kind are gathered together and listed alphabetically.

When it's as easy as this to save money and get more for the money you do spend—why not?

Turn to the A-B-C Classified Section—today and every day!

The A-B-C Classified Ads Always the Same—In Service Always Different—In Opportunity

Rooms and Board

Real Estate for Rent

Real Estate for Sale

There's Some Credit to Your Account

in The Constitution's A-B-C Classified Section!
Real cash—a neat sum saved out of the money you would ordinarily spend on necessities and luxuries during the coming months.

It's every bit as good as credit at any store in town—and all you have to do to get it is simply to watch for the unusual opportunities that are appearing from day to day in the Classified Columns.

The ads in which you'll be interested are easy to find because all those of any particular kind are gathered together and listed alphabetically.

When it's as easy as this to save money and get more for the money you do spend—why not?

Turn to the A-B-C Classified Section—today and every day!

The A-B-C Classified Ads Always the Same—In Service Always Different—In Opportunity

Rooms and Board

Real Estate for Rent

Real Estate for Sale

There's Some Credit to Your Account

in The Constitution's A-B-C Classified Section!
Real cash—a neat sum saved out of the money you would ordinarily spend on necessities and luxuries during the coming months.

It's every bit as good as credit at any store in town—and all you have to do to get it is simply to watch for the unusual opportunities that are appearing from day to day in the Classified Columns.

The ads in which you'll be interested are easy to find because all those of any particular kind are gathered together and listed alphabetically.

When it's as easy as this to save money and get more for the money you do spend—why not?

Turn to the A-B-C Classified Section—today and every day!

The A-B-C Classified Ads Always the Same—In Service Always Different—In Opportunity

Rooms and Board

Real Estate for Rent

Real Estate for Sale

There's Some Credit to Your Account

in The Constitution's A-B-C Classified Section!
Real cash—a neat sum saved out of the money you would ordinarily spend on necessities and luxuries during the coming months.

It's every bit as good as credit at any store in town—and all you have to do to get it is simply to watch for the unusual opportunities that are appearing from day to day in the Classified Columns.

The ads in which you'll be interested are easy to find because all those of any particular kind are gathered together and listed alphabetically.

When it's as easy as this to save money and get more for the money you do spend—why not?

Turn to the A-B-C Classified Section—today and every day!

The A-B-C Classified Ads Always the Same—In Service Always Different—In Opportunity

Rooms and Board

Real Estate for Rent

Real Estate for Sale

There's Some Credit to Your Account

in The Constitution's A-B-C Classified Section!
Real cash—a neat sum saved out of the money you would ordinarily spend on necessities and luxuries during the coming months.

It's every bit as good as credit at any store in town—and all you have to do to get it is simply to watch for the unusual opportunities that are appearing from day to day in the Classified Columns.

The ads in which you'll be interested are easy to find because all those of any particular kind are gathered together and listed alphabetically.

When it's as easy as this to save money and get more for the money you do spend—why not?

Turn to the A-B-C Classified Section—today and every day!

